FATAL CRASH — Ambulance attendants administer to the injured as onlookers survey the shattered wreckage of a Volkswagen sedan in which an 18-year-old Sausalito youth was killed and two other persons were injured. The driver of the car was booked on suspicion of drunken driving after the crash that occurred at 9 o'clock last night on Almonte Boulevard in Tamalpais Valley.

Sausalito Youth, 18, Dies In Tam Valley Car Crash

A Sausalito youth was killed and two other persons were injured last night when the car in which they were riding overturned on Almonte Boulevard in Tamalpais Valley.

Nelson Clark Ritter, 18, was pronounced dead at Marin General Hospital at 9:28 p.m. He is the 23rd traffic fatality in Marin and Southern Sonoma this year compared to 25 highway deaths recorded at this time last year.

Driver of the car, Michael Randy Toomey, 19, of 156 Bridgeway, Sausalito, was booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of felony drunk driving. He was held in lieu of $1,200 bail to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Before being booked, Toomey was treated at Marin General Hospital for a scraped right shoulder and released.

Gregory P. Harris, 21, of Santa Rosa, suffered a broken right shoulder, head injuries and cuts on his face. He was reported in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital.

Dinah Fuentes, 22, of San Francisco, suffered a fractured vertebrae and was reported in satisfactory condition. Both Harris and Fuentes were passengers in the auto.

Toomey — according to the California Highway Patrol — was driving south on Almonte Boulevard at 9 p.m. at about 50 miles per hour when his Volkswagen sedan careened off the west side of the road south of Rosemont Avenue. The auto overturned, knocking over a mail box and road sign.

Officers reported that Toomey was driving too fast to complete the curve.

While Ritter was reported by the Highway Patrol to be a resident of Sausalito, his address was not known.

On July 16, Ritter was sentenced to 75 days in jail for attempting to burglarize the Sausalito Bait and Tackle Shop. No information was available today regarding his release.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

Bombs Hurt 12 Persons In London

LONDON (UPI) — Bombs exploded in two busy train stations in central London today, injuring at least a dozen persons, two of them critically, police said.

A police inspector at Euston station, where a bomb shattered a crowded diner right at the lunch hour, initially said an Oriental man was killed. Later, however, Scotland Yard said it could not confirm any deaths.

Police said two of the injured were not expected to live.

The other explosion went off at Kings Cross station, where a bomb exploded in an unused ticket station beside a crowded train platform. At least six persons, including a young child, were injured in that explosion, police said.

Bomb scares forced evacuation of three other stations—Liverpool, Charing Cross and Victoria. Police investigated a suspicious parcel at Charing Cross.

The bomb attack was the bloodiest in the current three-week-old terrorist campaign blamed by Scotland Yard on the Irish Republican Army. It coincided with the start of the trial of 10 persons charged with planting bombs in March which killed one person and injured more than 100 outside the Old Bailey criminal court and Whitehall, seat of the British government.

An official police spokesman said at least 12 persons, including two children, were admitted to hospitals after the blasts at Kings Cross and Euston stations.

The spokesman said three of the casualties were of Oriental ancestry, but all were believed to be British residents.

But Detective Inspector Charles L. Ray said at Euston station that a middle-aged man who appeared to be Japanese was standing almost on top of the bomb and was killed instantly.

The bomb blasts marked the beginning of the trial of 10 Irish Republican Army (IRA) activists in nearby Winchester on charges they set a bomb blast last March which killed one person and injured more than 100 persons in Whitehall Street, center of the British government.

At Euston station, the bomb exploded in a crowded diner. A caller with an Irish accent telephoned a British press agency and said a bomb was about to go off, but it exploded less than three minutes later.

Students To Pay More For Food And Milk Tomorrow

Schools Plan Increases To Battle Rising Costs

Marin and Southern Sonoma students — from tiny tots to college students — will get a lesson tomorrow in spiraling food costs as many schools plan to beat inflation by increasing food and milk prices.

A survey by the Independent Journal shows the situation has been aggravated by action in Sacramento to cut back the state's milk subsidy program.

Because of higher prices and loss of subsidy, most students will have to pay from one to five cents more for a container of milk, the survey shows.

Several local school districts plan to hold the line while others, such as the San Rafael elementary and high school districts, may hold the price line but reduce the quantity of food.

At San Rafael High School, for instance, students will pay the same as last year except for milk which will increase about seven cents to a new 15 cents for a third-pint container.

Cafeteria manager Viola Anderson said portions will be a little smaller this year and added she has dismissed one cafeteria worker "to take up the slack."

The price of beef, which zoomed from 79 cents to $1.15 per pound, will mean eight hamburgers from each pound rather than six as in the past, she said.

Last year, Mrs. Anderson said, her cafeteria made a $2,000 profit. This year, she hopes to break even.

Other school districts surveyed show:

BOLINAS-TINSON BEACH — Only milk is offered. No decision has been reached whether to increase the five-cent-per-container price. District officials say the price may increase.

DIXIE — Only milk is offered. Has increased the price from six and a half cents to about seven cents per container because of state cutbacks in the milk subsidy program.

FAIRFAX — Only milk is offered. Has increased the price from five cents to six cents per half pint because of state cutbacks in the milk subsidy program.

KENTFIELD — Only milk is offered. Has increased the price from about seven cents to about nine cents per container because of state cutbacks in the milk subsidy program.

LAGUNITAS — Only milk is offered. No decision has been reached whether to increase the five-cent-per-container price. District officials say the price may increase to six cents.

LARKSPUR — Has increased the price of milk from five

Beef Prices Same As Freeze Ends

The federal beef price freeze ended at midnight, but Marin shoppers won't see much difference soon at the butcher's counter, meat wholesalers and retailers said today.

"We've got plenty of beef; the prices haven't gone up yet and I don't anticipate any" increases, said a butcher at Petri's Market in Greenbrae.

The news was much the same at large and small markets throughout Marin.

"The picture's kind of jumbled," reported the meat buyer for the Food Mart in San Rafael. He said three suppliers today quoted prices the same as last week, or at most 2 cents to 3 cents a pound higher.

Marin Meat Co., a wholesaler, reported that packing houses "have raised prices a little" but it may be some time before the increases show up on the retail meat counter, while butchers sell off supplies on hand. "Beef is going up from 72 cents to 77 or 78 cents," at the packing plants, the wholesaler reported.

The Cost of Living Council in Washington, D.C., froze beef until Sept. 12, when it ended the freeze on other meats in July. But on Friday it ended the beef freeze two days early, fearful that cattle raisers would withhold their beef from sale and cause a severe shortage in the last few days of the freeze.

The lifting of beef price controls was only partial. While it allows beef dealers to pass along any increase in their costs to the customer, it also will require the dealers to pass along any savings, if the supply increases enough to force prices down through normal market processes.

In New York, packing plants were reported running at near capacity for the first time in weeks. Elsewhere around the U.S., chain stores said they were not having to pay more for beef, yet, and neither would their customers.

President Calls On Congress For Swift Legislative Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, pledging a new spirit of compromise, called on Congress today "to play its proper role in guiding the affairs of the nation" by taking swift, decisive action on his major legislative proposals before the end of the year.

Asserting that the next four months will be a "time of great testing" for Congress, Nixon submitted a 15,000 word second State of the Union message to urge enactment of about 50 administration proposals. Almost all of them already are before the Democratic-controlled Congress.

The presidential message was Nixon's third thrust in less than a week to nudge Congress on his programs. It followed a news conference statement Wednesday and a radio address yesterday in which he took his case to the people.

On inflation—which members of Congress said they had learned is the No. 1 issue in the minds of the public—the President said: "Americans want and deserve decisive action to fight rising prices. And they want every possible step taken now—not a year from now or in the next session of the Congress."

Nixon said that "in the spirit of responsible cooperation which must prevail between the executive and the Congress if we are to make genuine progress this fall, I am fully prepared to work closely with members of the Congress in hammering out modifications" in disputed legislation.

He stressed at the same time that he would continue to fight any moves by the Democratic-controlled Congress to increase federal spending, reduce the defense budget or limit the powers of the presidency.

"The problems of the nation are pressing, and our elected leaders must rise to the occasion," he said. "These next four months will be a time of great testing. If the Congress is to play its proper role in guiding the affairs of the nation, now is the time for it to take swift and decisive action."

Expressing strong opposition to any tax increase, Nixon said, "We want to fight inflation and balance the budget by placing restraints on spending and not by adding to our current tax burdens."

He said he would not hesitate

White-Only Rule Voted Out By Elks

San Rafael Elks Lodge 1108 has voted to drop the white-only membership rule "by a substantial majority" of those present, according to Joseph J. (Bud) Sousa, exalted ruler.

The nationwide results of similar balloting by other lodges will be forthcoming, Sousa said.

The Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks voted in July to drop the white only rule but the change won't become effective unless two-thirds of the 2,182 local lodges approve it.

Sousa said the vote Thursday to ratify the Grand Lodge's proposal was by a 3-to-1 margin, and he has heard that votes at other lodges have been 2-to-1 in favor of dropping the rule.

Appeals Court Asked By Nixon To Reverse Decision On Tapes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon asked a U.S. Appeals Court today to repudiate Judge John J. Sirica's order that the White House Watergate tapes be turned over to him for secret examination.

Sirica defended his right "to decide the scope of executive privilege." Lawyers for the president and the federal judge filed briefs on the legal controversy in advance of oral arguments to be heard by the appeals court tomorrow.

The dispute is expected to wind up in the Supreme Court when it returns Oct. 1 from its annual recess.

Nixon's attorneys said in a 95-page brief that Sirica's decision that the tapes be submitted to him for study and possible use by a federal grand jury was "utterly without precedent."

"As recently as a year ago such a ruling would have been unthinkable," they said.

"The universal view of the legal community... was that the courts lack the power to substitute their judgment for that of the President on an issue of this kind and that they lack power to compel a President to make production."

The White House brief said: "The issue in this case is nothing less than the continued existence of the presidency as a functioning institution. 'It is tempting to give sway to the forces that have been set in motion by Watergate, to issue orders of a kind entirely without precedent in our history and to alter settled principles of Constitutional government."

"A decision that it is for the judiciary rather than for the President to decide how the presidency is to function might be popular with those who do not count the long term consequences. That cannot be a concern of this court."

Sirica's lawyers disputed that argument, asserting it was well established that courts had the power to decide the scope of executive privilege.

They said the President's claims of "an unqualified right to personally declare a privilege not reviewable by any court contravenes this vital principle."

Sirica's brief said the judge "attempted to walk a middle ground required because of his inability to determine the validity of the asserted privilege without access to further facts contained within the tapes in question."

The legal battle arose when Special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox sought an order from Sirica that White House tapes of conversations by Nixon with key aides be made available for a federal grand jury investigating the Watergate cover-up.

Nixon refused on grounds of executive privilege and national security. Sirica ruled that the tapes should be given to him for review to determine if they should be given to the grand jury either in part or completely.

In another brief filed with the appeals court, Cox asked that Sirica's order to inspect the tapes personally be vacated and that the tapes be turned over directly to the grand jury.

Cox said Sirica "failed to articulate the standards he considers proper for determining what evidence will be ordered produced to the grand jury, and what evidence, if any, will be kept secret."

Defaults On Student Loans Said Problem

WASHINGTON (UPI) —In the last eight years the federal government and states have guaranteed $6 billion in loans to help 6.1 million students pay for their education. Most pay the money back, but the relative few who don't have become a serious problem.

In the past five years, according to the U.S. Office of Education, an estimated 60,000 college and trade school students have defaulted on $55.2 million in federally guaranteed student loans.

Under the guarantee program, the federal government had to pick up the tab and repay the money to the banks and other institutions from which the students had borrowed the money.

Subsequently, it was able to recover only $3.2 million from the defaulting students.

"We are having trouble collecting on the guaranteed student loan program, and we are taking very vigorous steps to hopefully correct the situation," Peter Muirhead, deputy commissioner for higher education, told UPI in an interview. "I would be less than candid if I didn't acknowledge the fact that we are very worried about this program."

One big problem has been that, as recently as March, 1972, there were only three federal collectors for delinquent student loans in the whole country. There are now 28 collectors and examiners in 10 regional offices, but the collection goal for this year is still a modest $5.5 million.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

University Bombed
PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Cambodian air force pilots reduced the eastern side of the Kompong Cham University campus to rubble today in an effort to drive out Communist Khmer Rouge troops from the area into a nearby swamp, military sources said.

There was no official estimate of government progress in clearing the town of insurgents, but helicopters flying reinforcements into the besieged provincial capital returned with refugees today, indicating that battle casualties may have been reduced.

Kompong Cham, located on the Mekong River 60 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, has been under siege for a month.

Drop In Cases
NAPLES, Italy (UPI) — Health officials reported a drop today in the number of new cases in Italy's 14-day cholera outbreak, but cautiously avoided saying the disease was under control.

An official in the Adriatic port of Bari expressed fear such an announcement would make Italians relax precautions against the disease, which has claimed 24 lives.

Unrest In Chile
SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Provincial leaders of Chile's largest opposition political party called yesterday for the resignation of President Salvador Allende to end massive, middle class strikes across the country.

Provincial chiefs of the Christian Democratic party issued the plea as more and more Chileans went on strike, critically curtailing food supplies in this nation of 9 million and bringing the economy to a virtual halt.

The province officials urged the centrist party's national leadership to demand "a return of power to the people, which implies the resignation of the president of the republic, as well as all of Congress."

More UFOs Reported
GRIFFIN, Ga. (UPI) — New reports of strange, hovering objects with brightly colored lights were received last night by local authorities as part of a rash of recent sightings of unidentified flying objects in the Southeast.

For nearly two weeks, reports of UFOs have flooded authorities in central and south Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and Florida. The reports have come from civilians, military policemen, local law enforcement officers and state troopers.

Last night, a Spalding County deputy answered a call reporting an object hovering over a house. The deputy radioed his office that he saw "two red lights descending slowly to earth," and then the lights disappeared.

Shaky Princess
KIEV, USSR (UPI) — Princess Anne stumbled shakily to her feet — her smart, white riding britches smeared with dirt — and limped over to her horse, Goodwill.

"Well, they all got to see what they came for," the seething princess muttered through clenched teeth after thousands of spectators and newsmen saw her unregally tossed from Goodwill at the European Equestrian Championships.

Queen Elizabeth's 23-year-old daughter was thrown head over heels Saturday when her brown gelding hit a hurdle at the treacherous second obstacle on the cross country phase of the riding championships.

Violations Climb
SAIGON (UPI) — Communist cease-fire violations climbed back above the 100 mark today after a one-day respite and guerrilla attacks were reported along the Hue defense line, government military spokesmen said.

Significant ground fighting was reported in three provinces of the Central Highlands.

South Vietnamese command spokesman Lt. Col. Do Viet reported 120 Communist truce violations in the 24 hours ending at noon today, 32 more than the previous day.

BEAUTY ON THE BOARDWALK
Miss America 1974, Rebecca Ann King of Sterling, Colo., wore a bright smile yesterday as she looked over the boardwalk and beach at Atlantic City after being chosen for the crown Saturday night. Rebecca Ann told reporters she would have entered law school this year had she not won the pageant. She hopes to be a juvenile court judge and, although she says she has never smoked it herself, thinks marijuana should be legalized.

Nixon Urges Congress To Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has appealed to Congress to quickly pass his major legislative programs but not to cut national defense and not to limit his own presidential powers.

In an 18-minute radio address to the nation yesterday, the President coupled these appeals with a warning that nonadministration bills which have either passed or are pending in Congress would overstep the budget and raise prices for "every American family."

With the exception of new housing legislation, which he said he would send Congress in 10 days, all of the proposals in the President's speech have been presented by him before. He charged Congress with a "very disappointing" performance in not enacting them sooner and urged their passage "to complete the people's business before the year ends" — with extra congressional sessions if necessary.

The programs include giving the president more flexibility to control foreign trade; a series of energy measures including the trans-Alaska pipeline, building deepwater ports and allowing the price of natural gas to be set by the market rather than regulation; improvement of cities; assistance for education; pension reform, health and job training; and restoration of the death penalty for certain crimes and tough narcotics laws.

Nixon did not mention Watergate. But, in an apparent reference to his desire to put that issue behind him, he urged "holding the spotlight of public attention and public debate on those issues that directly and personally affect you and your lives."

He said that for the first time in 12 years Americans are not at war anywhere in the world and added: "The time has come to focus here at home on those great goals that can unite all Americans, that affect all Americans, and in which all Americans have a direct and personal stake."

He indicated willingness to compromise with his opponents in Congress on details of specific legislation, but he said there were three things he deemed essential:

—Holding the line against efforts to cut the $85 billion defense budget; domestic programs, he said, can no longer be financed out of defense cuts. "This approach," he declared, "is worse than foolhardy; it is suicidal."

—Holding the line on the entire federal budget: Nixon said Congress already has passed or is considering bills which would exceed his budget by $6 billion and that Congress has failed to make nearly $1.5 billion in cuts he had called for. "If these actions by the Congress stand," he said, "the result will be higher prices for every American family."

—"We must recognize," the President said, "that the American system requires both a strong Congress and a strong executive; and we therefore must not place limits on presidential powers that would jeopardize the capacity of the President, in this and future administrations, to carry out his responsibilities to the American people."

Mansfield Vows Program Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today Congress will give President Nixon's new legislative proposals prompt consideration, saying he believes President Nixon is serious about averting confrontations.

As part of an effort to smooth rocky relations between the White House and the Democratic-controlled Congress, Nixon held a breakfast meeting this morning with House Speaker Carl Albert, three days after a similar session with Mansfield.

Today's session, with House Democratic Leader Thomas P. O'Neill of Massachusetts and GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan sitting in, preceded a lengthy, new State of the Union message to Congress by Nixon.

Mansfield said that "my impression is that the President intended to bring about a degree of cooperation" by getting together with the leaders. Did he get the feeling Nixon was serious about cooperation? "I did," said Mansfield.

Mansfield said he believes Congress will move quickly to scan Nixon's new requests. For his part, he said he would call together chairmen of appropriate Senate committee, such as those on energy and the economy, to "give immediate consideration to his proposals as quickly as possible."

The Montana Democrat was interviewed on the NBC-TV Today Show.

Hussein, Sadat In Cairo Parley

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

King Hussein of Jordan and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt began talks in Cairo today designed to heal the rift between the two countries and create a common front with Syria against Israel.

The visit by the 38-year-old Hussein was his first to the Egyptian capital since he expelled Palestinians from Jordanian soil in 1970.

Syrian President Hafez Assad was to join the talks later today. The three Arab countries lost territory in the 1967 Middle East war and called today's meeting to discuss plans for stepping up action against Israel. But Hussein first had wounds to heal in his rift with Egypt and Syria.

Syria broke off diplomatic relations with Jordan in 1971 because of Hussein's handling of the Palestinians. Egypt severed its ties with Jordan in April of 1972 after Hussein announced a plan for a federation of the East and West banks of the Jordan river under his rule.

$400,000 Fire

AZUSA (UPI) — Fire caused an estimated $400,000 damages early today when it destroyed a one-story concrete building housing two electronic firms.

Diplomatic officials saw today's meeting as the beginning of a determined effort to bring Jordan back into the fold and reactivate the "eastern front" against Israel.

Yesterday, Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan called for a change in the map of the Middle East, setting up new settlements in occupied Arab territories to insure the security of Israel.

Dayan, speaking at a political rally in the Israeli industrial city of Beersheba, called for "a new map and new settlements" in the occupied Arab territories.

The defense minister said Israel "would have to rely on herself for her security rather than on international guarantees, which have not proved themselves."

"We must now ensure settlements that will be made by ourselves," he said.

Dayan, in his speech, said Jewish sectors should be established in the occupied territories "leaving no room for a separate Palestinian state."

Israel has already established 48 settlements in the occupied territories, but has not officially annexed more than the 43.5 square miles of East Jerusalem and its suburbs.

Cuba Splits With Israel

ALGIERS (UPI) — Cuba severed diplomatic relations with Israel yesterday, implementing a resolution by 76 nonaligned nations to boycott the country because of its occupation of Arab lands captured in the 1967 war.

Announcement of the split by Algerian President Houari Boumedienne marked the end of the 12th annual nonaligned countries' summit conference, which also called for recognition of both the exile government of deposed Cambodian ruler Prince Norodom Sihanouk and that of the Viet Cong as the legitimate government of South Vietnam.

Cuba's break with Israel was the first by a Latin American country.

Richardson Declines On Tap Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson declined today to furnish senators considering Henry A. Kissinger's nomination a list of members of the National Security Council staff whose telephones were tapped in 1969.

In a 90-minute private meeting with the committee, Richardson did tell the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that no committee staff member "has at any time been subjected to electronic surveillance by the Department of Justice."

Richardson met with the panel prior to the resumption of public hearings on Kissinger's nomination to be secretary of state. The nomination hit a snag Friday because of demands by some members that the wiretap information be furnished as a condition for confirmation.

Richardson said he was giving the committee all information he had available on the procedures involved in the wiretaps and Kissinger's role in the matter.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said earlier today that he did not believe Kissinger's nomination was "in any danger" and said he felt the wiretap information being sought would be made available.

Asked what would happen if Richardson did not provide it, Mansfield said "I think it will mean a delay" in Kissinger's confirmation.

Boy, was he ever right! I go to Florida, New York, Los Angeles, New Orleans, even London.

I'm Sylvia Frey and I fly for National. I'm in the air more than most people are in their cars. And you know what? I love it. All of it.

From "Please fasten your seat belts" to "Thank you for Flying National."

From an excited family of four on their way to Walt Disney World in Orlando to a sleepy businessman on his way to a meeting in Houston.

It's all as fresh to me today as it was my first day as a National Flight Attendant. I remember that day.

I remember wondering if flying would live up to a little girl's daydreams. Well, I've stopped wondering. It's even better than I thought. I guess that's why I smile so much when I'm in the air. And I guess my father really knew what he was talking about. There's just no doubt about it. I was born to fly.

I'm Sylvia.
Fly me.
Fly National.

Two Injured In Shoreline Car Crash

Two persons were injured — one seriously — when their auto slammed into an embankment yesterday on Shoreline Highway.

Teresa L. Younggren, 22, was reported in serious condition at Marin General Hospital, suffering from cuts on her face and other unknown injuries.

The highway patrol said Mrs. Younggren was driving south on Shoreline Highway north of Seacape Drive at 2:40 p.m. and was traveling too fast to complete a curve. Her sedan crossed the road and hit the embankment.

Two other passengers, Akram N. Bitar, 25, of San Francisco and Tristen M. Younggren, 17, of Pacifica, were treated at Marin General Hospital and released.

Armando Valencia, 25, a student living in a nearby house, was arrested for possession of marijuana and possession of marijuana for sale after the brick marijuana was found in a rented van and a 2½-ton truck.

Teacher Strikes Threaten To Keep One Million Home

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL. Teacher strikes in at least half a dozen states threaten to keep up to a million school children home from school this week.

One of the few bright spots in San Francisco, where a bus strike was settled and 20,000 school children resume classes today.

But half a million pupils in 32 school districts in Michigan face another week of summer vacations.

Hardest hit is Detroit, where 270,000 students are shut out by strikes. The Detroit school board lost its court battle Friday to force teachers back to work. A Wayne County judge, instead, ordered both sides back to the bargaining table.

Teacher and school committee negotiators in Pawtucket, R.I., reached a tentative settlement Sunday night on a new contract that could end a class boycott that has kept 12,000 students out of school since last Wednesday. A vote was set for today on the pact, which calls for a $125 bonus for all teachers who obtain advanced degrees. Contract disputes, meanwhile, remained unsettled in Providence and North Providence, delaying school for 29,000 students.

In New York, teachers in suburban Harrison and Greenburgh, on strike since last week, negotiated Sunday without success. In Rochester and Yonkers, teachers threatened strike votes if contract disputes were not negotiated quickly.

More than 1.1 million children start back to school today in New York City. In at least two schools, parents planned to keep children home over integration and administration disputes.

Asks Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., charged today that huge Japanese purchases of cotton and wool had driven up world prices and urged the administration to impose export controls on U.S. cotton.

Nixon Friend Held Target Of Probe

NEW YORK (UPI) — California millionaire C. Arnholt Smith, a personal friend and political associate of President Nixon for more than 25 years, is the latest target of federal investigators. The New York Times reported today.

In a dispatch from Washington, Times reporter Denny Walsh said that the federal investigators are interested in Smith's alleged dealings with organized crime figures.

The report also stated that Smith's business empire within the last year has come under the scrutiny of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Internal Revenue Service, the FBI and the Controller of the Currency.

In a recent appearance before a grand jury in San Diego, the banker and industrialist invoked his Fifth Amendment rights against self incrimination, the Times said.

The newspaper also reported that the naming of San Diego lawyer John Andrew Donnelly to the board of directors of Westgate-California Corporation, a Smith Conglomerate, added the Smith's difficulties.

The Times said Donnelly has interested federal enforcement officials for years because of his long association as both a business and legal representative to organized crime figures.

The Times said that it had learned from reliable government sources that Smith and his enterprises have a long history of dealings with organized crime and that it has records to back these claims.

Smith, 74, and President Nixon have been friends for many years and the President on occasion has sought Smith's counsel, the Times said. Over the years, Smith has contributed hundreds of thousands of dollars to Nixon's various political campaigns.

Last month the IRS filed a $22.8 million tax lien against Smith which the California millionaire called a bureaucratic attempt to develop a "little Watergate" and accused the government agency of attacking him as "a friend of President Nixon."

Fall Enrollment To Be Studied

The Novato School District board will review fall enrollment reports at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the boys' gymnasium at Novato High School.

Mainly because of cutbacks at Hamilton Air Force Base enrollment is expected to be down about 900 from last year's 11,300, according to Supt. James G. Bunker.

Trustees also will consider transferring some students from Sinaloa Junior High School to San Jose Junior High School because of overcrowding. Enrollment at Sinaloa is near 1,100 and the school has a designed capacity of 960.

LONGS DRUGS "WHERE EVERYBODY SAVES"

Should Local Residents Run Government?

The Marin Association of Public Employees last week filed a grievance against Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales because he told an investigator in his office that residence in Marin County was required to hold the job.

This, claimed Frank J. O'Connell of Fairfax, general manager of the association, is arbitrary.

FILING OF THIS grievance opens an interesting question.

Bales' position is that since he, an elected official, must live in Marin County, it is not unreasonable for him to require those who work under him to do likewise. That makes sense.

The employee association's position is that employees can live more cheaply over the line in Sonoma County, or sometimes elsewhere in the Bay Area, and still be within easy commuting distance of the Civic Center, so that a requirement for Marin residence puts a hardship on them. That makes sense, too.

As to the legalities of the matter, Marin County has no ordinance requiring employees to live within the county. Such ordinances are far less common than they were not many years ago. The San Rafael City Charter contained a residency requirement for city employees until that was repealed by vote of the people in 1967. A similar requirement in San Francisco was voted out by the supervisors there a couple of years ago.

ABOUT ONE of every five Marin County employees now lives outside the county. The exact figure, according to Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, is 291 of the 1,490 fulltime employees as of July 31, or 19.5 per cent.

The non-residency rate is increasing. Three years ago, it was 15 per cent.

This is a trend, especially in suburban areas.

WE SEE a good deal of logic in District Attorney Bales' position.

The essence of local government is that the people choose from among themselves those who will guide their public administration. The elected officials then are empowered to employ whatever work force is required to do the job.

However, if those employed to do the job are not local people, the actual conduct of government services falls into the hands of people who are not part of the community, who do not vote in its elections, and whose only tie to it is their paycheck. In a sense, this is "carpetbagger government."

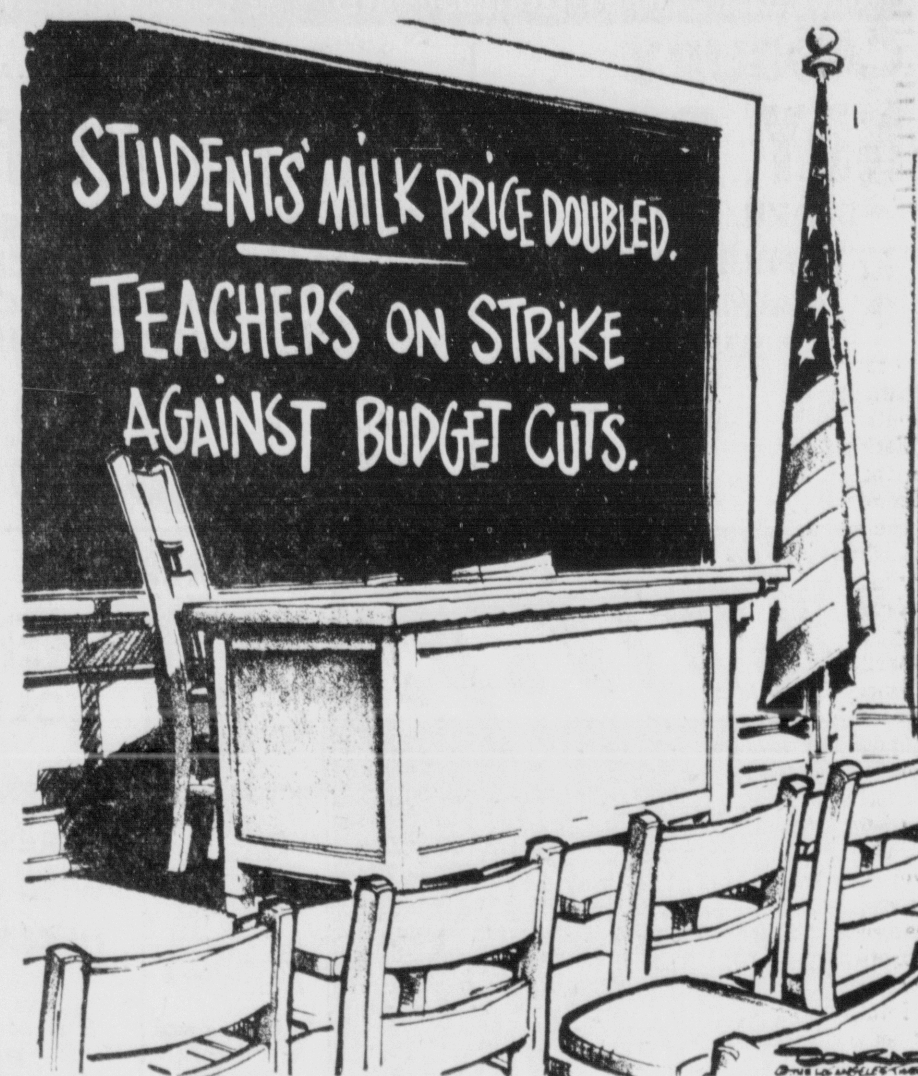

ONE OF THE principal reasons advanced for hiring outsiders for public employment is to open the field for getting the best. But this seems rather specious as applied to such classes of employees as probation workers (of whom 29 per cent in Marin live outside the county), draftsmen, county road employees, etc. And with the wide range of abilities and special training to be found among Marin's population, it is not very persuasive as regards the higher echelon employees.

The cost of living in Marin may or may not be enough higher than in some adjoining counties to outweigh the additional commuting cost. That is an economic matter.

But is that the real question at issue? Or are the real questions whether local government has an obligation to provide employment for local residents, and whether citizens are entitled to have their local government conducted by members of their own community — and not by outside surrogates?

These questions have been largely ignored. We hope the grievance filed by the Marin Association of Public Employees will serve to bring them under study and provide some answers.

McGovernites Leaving Field To Democratic Party Regulars

DEMOCRATIC PARTY COMING HOME. It now looks as though the old-line regulars, who lost out totally at the Miami convention, will be able to reclaim control of the Democratic Party by 1976. Most of the corps of the more ardent McGovern workers, especially the younger ones, are going back into the woodwork. They are not showing any sign of helping — or hurting.

The key test will come when changes in the guidelines, which excluded most of those who had run the party in the past, come up for a decision later this year.

There is little doubt that the "quota" method for the selection of convention delegates will be abandoned.

SOVIET DEFENSE SPENDING UP, U.S. DOWN. The U.S. defense budget has been lowered every year since 1970. The Soviet Union's defense budget rises 5 per cent every year.

Defense spending is now a smaller percentage of the total U.S. budget than at any time since the Korean War.

This year nondefense spending will total about $190 billion. This means a $70 billion increase in nondefense with no increase in defense despite the high cost of the volunteer army.

ON HARASSING PRESIDENT NIXON. Sam Dash, chief counsel for the Senate Watergate committee, made these points in conversation a few days ago.

He said that, if judged by Ervin committee standards, the questioning of the President at the San Clemente press conference would have to be counted as "tremendous harassment."

He did not see any reason to believe that presidential "Watergate tapes" have been or would be altered. He has studied tape altering and found that, while possible, it is extremely difficult to avoid detection.

Dash holds that it is unfair and improper to insinuate that in raising the constitutional issue of "executive privilege" in refusing to release the tapes, the President is thereby showing that he is guilty of coverup.

MOSCOW MAKING HEADWAY IN SOUTH KOREA. Overlooked in the box scores, an item of great diplomatic interest curiously came to light at the World University Games in Moscow: Non-Communist South Korea was represented; Communist North Korea wasn't.

To have the South Korean athletes in the heart of Sovietland, while the North Koreans refused to attend, hints of high policy.

What seems to be happening is that Moscow is slowly moving toward full contacts with non-Communist Seoul in an effort to extend detente from Europe to Asia.

PEKING NOT MAKING HEADWAY WITH TAIWAN. For weeks Hong Kong has been afloat with planted rumors that the mainland Chinese had promising negotiations under way to bring Taiwan peacefully under Peking's wing. There is no solid evidence to bear them out. No negotiating contacts have been made and none appears to be in prospect. The Chinese Nationalists said all along that nothing was happening and they seem to be right.

Peking does not wish to use force and is finding anything short of force unproductive. Probably nothing will be attempted until the passing of the aging Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, whose son will then take over.

CHOU EN-LAI FIRMLY ON TOP. Though the 10th congress of the Chinese Communist Party made a slight bow to the "Cultural Revolution" activists, the veteran premier remains in control. Two of his close associates and former vice premiers, who fell from grace a few years ago, now reappear at Chou's right and left hands. The old Chou En-lai managerial team is back in business. ©1973, Los Angeles Times.

ERNEST FURGURSON: Judges And Lawyers

WASHINGTON — The great constitutional showdown we Americans are now watching is the sort of educational experience that passes about once per century. Anybody who cares enough to follow the legal confrontations over the various campaign scandals of the recent past will know more about constitutional law than a lot of the lawyers in the country. More, too, about the men who make, bend and interpret the law.

About judges, for example.

WE ARE TOLD that "one of the most frequently reversed judge in Washington," Katz continues, and this is not due to honest philosophical differences between him and the appellate courts. Worse, it follows from his "short temper, inattentiveness to court proceedings, misguided view of the purpose of judicial power, lack of compassion for his fellow human beings and, strange as it now seems, his lack of interest in the truth."

The critic, Harvey Katz, writes in Washingtonian magazine that anybody he rates "unsuited" should not be on the bench. "It does not mean the judge is an evil person, but rather that he should not be sitting in judgment on others. Not everyone is cut out to be a judge, a responsibility that requires intelligence, firmness, patience, compassion and an understanding of the law. That a person does not have those attributes does not mean that he would not make a good executive or lawyer or prosecutor."

By these ground rules, Katz concludes that Sirica is a failure. He says he abused the defendants, witnesses, prosecutors and defense lawyers in the Watergate break-in case, and "turned the trial into an inquisition, and justice into a charade."

Earlier, Sirica had become "the most frequently reversed judge in Washington," Katz continues, and this is not due to honest philosophical differences between him and the appellate courts. Worse, it follows from his "short temper, inattentiveness to court proceedings, misguided view of the purpose of judicial power, lack of compassion for his fellow human beings and, strange as it now seems, his lack of interest in the truth."

The author goes on, and then on, citing individual cases and quoting unnamed lawyers. "His courtroom is his kingdom," one attorney said. "Sometimes I think he deliberately sets up his own private rules just to prove that the U.S. Constitution can't tell him how to run his court."

ALL OF WHICH sounds fairly overwhelming, and makes a poor layman wonder how such a misfit ever could have gotten onto the bench to start with, and how he says there in face of all his errors — why, come to think of it, the great debate of the day is not about impeaching Judge Sirica, rather than some other highly placed official around town.

Sirica was appointed by Dwight Eisenhower, and nobody is talking about his impeachment because whatever else Katz may assert, nobody has alleged that the judge is dishonest. That is part of the answer to the above. The other part is not so direct. It is simply to note that both Katz' assessment and the expert opinions it rests on come from lawyers.

The Watergate case and all the surrounding cases have been loaded with lawyers — lawyers who are defendants, conspirators, senators, lawyers who are supposed to be prosecutors, good lawyers, bad lawyers. They have been on every side of every debating point, they have built fantastic fences of legal thorns around every offender, however clear and outrageous his offense.

Nothing has been more obvious through this long summer than lawyers' devotion to the use of the law to their own clients' particular end. It is, or can be, an honorable devotion. But it is not the same thing as devotion to the truth.

IF THE EXECUTIVE branch had had the chance, this administration could have produced a roster of at least 100 judges, lately lawyers, who would have been satisfied to let the original Watergate prosecution lie flat. It would never have proceeded past the routine convictions of the men actually arrested at the break-in.

But once again, as so many times in the past, our country was lucky. A judge named Sirica, an immigrant's son who may be the most frequently reversed judge in Washington, got the case. He was not satisfied to leave the case lying where the lawyers dropped it.

He was devoted to the truth, and he still is demanding the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, as it says in the courtroom routine. And as for me, I would not swap the guts of one John Sirica for all the finesse embodied in the whole American Bar Association. ©1973, Baltimore Sun.

Inadequate Funding Imperils Program

Your article on the closure of the multi-handicapped unit at Linda Vista Convalescent Hospital on Sept. 6 is of interest to my wife and me. We are the parents of a 9-year-old profoundly mentally and physically handicapped child, who currently resides at that facility.

If Linda Vista is forced to discontinue operation of the multi-handicapped unit, it appears that my wife and I have two options regarding the future care of Stephen. One option would be to place him in Sonoma State Hospital, the other would be to bring him home. We believe that neither of these alternatives would be as desirable for Stephen, his brother and sister, or us as continuing high quality out-of-home care within the county.

The administration at Linda Vista indicate they would have to be reimbursed at the rate of $22 per patient day as opposed to the current state approved rate of $15.52 if they are to be able to continue to operate the unit.

The issue of an inadequate state-approved rate for the physically and mentally handicapped goes far beyond Stephen and the other residents of Linda Vista Hospital. I understand that it affects convalescent hospitals throughout the State of California. Indeed it seems to touch at the heart of the issue regarding the placement of the physically and mentally handicapped in the community as opposed to the state hospital system.

Therefore, fees must be authorized by the State Health and Welfare Agency that will allow operators of convalescent hospitals to adequately provide for the physical and mental needs of their patients. The fees should also provide ample profit to the owners of the hospitals and sufficient salary for the staff.

Harlan Sets Record Straight On Sausalito

On Sept. 4 you ran an article with pictures on page 17 concerning the Sausalito City Hall.

I should like to correct some of the statements made in the article, as they are not factually true.

"In 1910, city hall was housed at 62 Princess Street and this was known as the bank building, home of the Sausalito Bank and Overland Automobile," the cut lines state. The 62 Princess Street building is still intact, but it was never the home of the "Sausalito Bank." In fact there was never a bank by this name. The present city hall was built shortly after the 1906 quake by the Bank of Sausalito as shown in the left hand four-column photo. The present council chambers were rented out by the bank to various tenants until they built their new bank building which is now the Wells Fargo Bank. When the Shoobert family sold the 62 Princess property which they rented to the town, offices were moved to a ground floor location on Water Street (now Bridgeway), opposite from the Ondine and Trident restaurants. This was in the early 1920s. When the bank put up its old quarters for sale, the town bought it.

"On Christmas Day in 1921, the ferry Franklin Van Damme was caught in a southeast gale," the article asserted. What this has to do with Sausalito, I don't know. There never was a ferry on the bay named the "Franklin Van Damme," and the Charles Van Damme hulk at Gate 6 could not have been a sister ship. This incident basically happened — but to the Charles Van Damme of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry on Dec. 25, 1921. The rest of the account is related on page 140 of the book, "Walking Beams and Paddle Wheels," written by George H. Harlan of Greenbrae in 1951.

"A Chinese syndicate built a huge concrete shell for games of chance. The four level structure now is the Village Fair," the article continued. No Chinese built this building. It was built just after World War I by Clinton Mason, and was known as the Empire Garage. Around 1936, the top floor of the garage was rented to a Chinese group who offered "drive up" limousine service from San Francisco to their plush gambling casino. Local and state police later raided the establishment, and in the aftermath of indictments and payoffs, there were few red faces in town.

A happy 80th birthday to Sausalito, from its former newspaper publisher from 1938 to 1963.

Doubtful View Of Student Exchanges

Some of the top executives in Washington who have somehow so far escaped Watergate, etc., etc., have found a new dodge to shore up their political futures: they take a trip to Russia and proliferate the old international bromides of student exchanges, etc., etc. If our top diplomats can't bring peace to the world a few wide-swinging students certainly aren't going to do the trick.

And let's not forget what happened to our wheat.

Individual Liberties Issue That Liberals Generally Ignore

(Reprinted from Portland Oregonian)

A growing number of lawsuits are being filed by individual workers and groups against unions and employers to test the constitutionality of "union shop" and "agency shop" contracts. It has always been something of a mystery why liberals ready to fight at the barricades for individual liberties have seldom thought it proper to support the cause of workers who refuse to join a union to hold a job, or to pay dues-equivalent to a union not to join.

Godfrey Schmidt, New York lawyer representing a group of New York Telephone Co. employees fighting the agency shop, cites no less than 11 portions of the Constitution he contends are violated by compulsory unionism. These sections include unlawful delegation of legislative powers by Congress in the Taft-Hartley Act, freedom of association, right of conscience, prohibition against a bill of attainder, and due process.

Nineteen states have outlawed the union shop, as permitted by Taft-Hartley, which sanctioned the union shop while banning the closed shop. The only difference is that under a closed shop contract, no longer legal but still operating in effect, a worker must be a member of the recognized union to obtain a job, while under the union shop he must join the union after being hired in order to keep his job. In neither case is unionism voluntary.

Yet the question of constitutionality remains to be finally decided in the courts. And Congress avoids it like poison because of the political power of organized labor. Constitutionality was not even discussed thoroughly when Congress adopted Taft-Hartley in 1949. It's a liberty issue the liberals do not want to see.

Recall Committee Seeking 'Handle' On New Councilmen?

A rather curious document is being circulated outlining points raised at an August "Platform workshop" meeting of the Corte Madera Recall Committee.

The document lists 20 "group contributions" to be considered for inclusion in a platform for reform candidates should the Sept. 18 recall of three town councilmen be successful.

Among the 20 suggestions are some old standbys, such as keeping the tax rate down and improving relations with neighboring communities.

Others reflect the general disenchantment of some residents with the way Corte Madera government has been run in the past and urge more citizen participation in the affairs of the community.

Nothing unusual there. That is, not until one ponders item 9, which reads: "Insure responsiveness of new councilmen to electing group, i.e. recall committee."

Agnew Unhappy With Critics Of Watergate

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, in his third public appearance since it became known he was the target of a federal investigation, told a weekend Republican rally that Watergate critics are responsible for a "persecutory atmosphere hanging over the American political system."

Agnew told 2,000 supporters Saturday night that "morbid preoccupation with Watergate threatens the ability of a government to concentrate on the problems it was elected to solve." He added, however, that President Nixon would not be diverted from the task he was elected to do.

The vice president said nothing directly about his own legal problems. Agnew is under investigation in his home state of Maryland in a major scandal involving contractor kickbacks.

Spotlight On Connally And Reagan

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — John Connally and Gov. Ronald Reagan, who may wind up fighting each other for the 1976 Republican presidential nomination, were the star attractions Saturday and yesterday at the largest GOP convention in California history.

Neither expressed much interest in running for the 1976 presidential nomination, although both looked, acted and sounded like candidates.

Reagan told reporters it was "just too early to speculate" about a presidential bid and said he would decide "certainly not before 1974."

"I'm not ruling it out; not ruling it in," Connally told newsmen, adding he was embarking on a two-month nationwide speaking tour.

The man who knew President Johnson intimately, was wounded while riding with President Kennedy when he was assassinated and served as President Nixon's adviser said he felt "terrified by the thought" of occupying the White House.

This was Reagan's home political territory and party workers still cheered and screamed and whistled after having listened to him for nearly eight years.

But Connally scored significant political points in his debut as a Republican before a GOP audience.

"He (Connally) went over sensationally, a great speech," said Republican state Chairman Gordon Luce, a Reagan intimate.

"I think Gov. Reagan gives a pretty fantastic speech. Now I've heard two great speakers. They really turn on the listeners," said Luce.

Connally, who only recently left the Democratic party and joined the GOP, told the 2,000 delegates: "There is not a Republican in this room who has to hang his head in shame because of Watergate or any other political scandal."

"Watergate is not our Waterloo unless we let it be. The people who engaged in those schemes were operating outside the purview of the Republican party."

Lion Country
Mountain lions, although quite numerous in Central and South America, are now restricted to the western one-third of the United States and to Florida.

California GOP Supports Reagan's Tax Limit Plan

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The California Republican party has officially endorsed Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax ceiling plan as "an unparalleled opportunity to establish a reasonable limitation on state taxes."

Reagan told 2,000 cheering delegates at the windup of the Republican State Central Committee's fall convention that:

"The issue is between those who live in a government feed lot compelling the citizenry to keep the trough full to overflowing, and between those who ask only of government that it keep us free."

Delegates, with no debate, endorsed a resolution expressing the party's "full support" for the Nov. 6 ballot measure and urging Republicans "to actively work" for its passage.

The convention also adopted

Monday, September 10, 1973 Independent-Journal, 9

resolutions supporting a move to place a measure on the ballot to lower the drinking age to 18, demanding a complete accounting of all Americans missing in action in Vietnam, supporting President Nixon, opposing aid to North Vietnam, urging preservation of the earthquake-threatened state capitol, supporting a private citizen's right to bear arms and opposing collective bargaining for public employees.

There were mixed feelings about the tax initiative among the four major contenders for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in 1974.

Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke and Attorney General Evelle J. Younger both supported Reagan's plan. But Controller Houston I. Flournoy said he still was neutral and former Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch told newsmen he had "reservations" about placing such a complex measure in the state constitution.

Reagan received his loudest applause when he answered critics who complained the plan should not be frozen into the constitution.

"The constitution is not a document forged by government to tell us what to do," the governor shouted. "The constitution is our document, our contract, in which we tell the government that which we will allow it to do."

Reagan told delegates, "Ours is going to be an uphill fight. We're asking only that the people vote to reduce their own tax burden—no gimmicks, no hidden devices."

Reagan May Get Senate-Passed Death Penalty Bill This Week

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Legislature today entered the final scheduled week of its 1973 session with the Senate expected to vote swift approval of a bill reinstating the death penalty in California.

Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, said he expected his colleagues would grant final passage to his major bill (SB450) early this week. Then it would go to the desk of Gov. Ronald Reagan, who has said he will sign the measure.

The Assembly cleared the path for final legislative approval of the bill last week when it passed the measure on a 52-25 vote. The Senate now must accept Assembly amendments which remove four crimes previously covered by the bill: hijacking, arson-caused death, an inmate killing a fellow prisoner and torture slaying.

The bill still will make death mandatory for 11 crimes, including multiple slayings and the killing of a peace officer.

With adjournment set for midnight Friday, a two-house Conference Committee also will resume its last-ditch effort to day to reach a compromise with Reagan to prevent sharp reductions in welfare grants to 500,000 persons.

Both the Reagan Administration and lawmakers said new welfare law was needed to prevent aged, blind and disabled welfare recipients from seeing their grants reduced from an average of $210 a month to $130 Jan. 1 because of a new federal law.

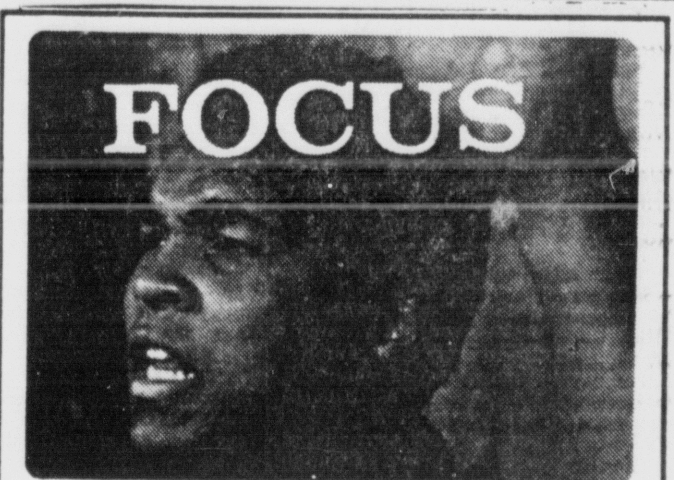

Other bills awaiting final legislative action include a measure by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, that imposes permanent regulations on the California timber industry. The bill cleared the Senate last week on a 23-1 vote and now returns to the Assembly.

A bill by Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys that is awaiting Senate action would require pharmacists to post prices of the most commonly sold prescription drugs. The bill (AB684), which now is on the Senate floor, also would permit the advertising of drug prices.

Under the new two-year legislature, bills which are still in the mill after Friday may be considered again during the 1974 session.

"Float Like a Butterfly, Sting Like a Bee" has been Muhammad Ali's motto in the boxing ring. Can the poetic prophet ("They all most fall/In the round I call") still float and sting? He gets a chance to try to prove that he can in tonight's rematch with Ken Norton. It's been a long and controversial 9 years since Ali, now 31, won the heavyweight title. Some say Ali is too old for a comeback, but the former champ might find encouragement in the fact that Joe Walcott was 37 when he won the title in 1951. George Foreman, the current champ, is 24.

Sentencing For Man, 25, In Burglary

One person was sentenced last week for a residential burglary; two pleaded guilty to burglary charges; one man was convicted of burglarizing a Los Ranchitos home and his co-defendant was ordered retired after his first trial ended in a hung jury.

SENTENCED
Robert Joseph Struel, 25, of Corte Madera, given a suspended prison term and placed on two years probation for stealing a color television from the apartment of Donald L. Wonnacott on Bulkeley Avenue, Sausalito.

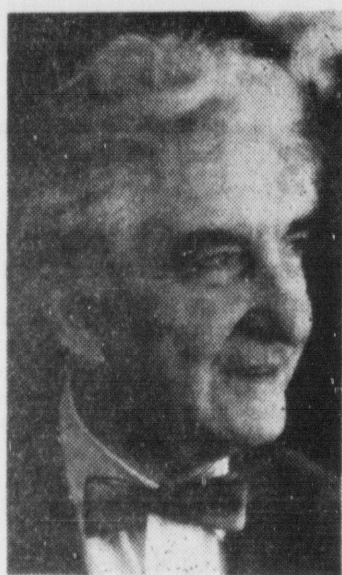

PLEADED GUILTY
Alice Beatrice Darby, 22, of San Francisco, admitted helping burglarize the Open Thursday boutique on Bridgeway in Sausalito. A second count of possessing cocaine was dismissed against her as part of a plea bargain.

Patrick Alan Douglas, 19, of Larkspur, admitted burglarizing the Sharon Ambrose home on Piedmont Road May 14.

PLEADED INNOCENT
Bruce Allan Gavazza, 20, of Santa Rosa, denied burglarizing Family Records, 87 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo. Preliminary hearing was set for Sept. 18.

CONVICTED
Richard Anthony Weaver, 20, of Oakland, was found guilty of burglarizing the William Ambrose home in Los Ranchitos June 21. Sentencing is set for Sept. 18.

RETRIAL
John Robert Prater, 35, of Oakland, will be retried the week of Oct. 29. His first trial ended in a hung jury. He is charged with burglarizing the Ambrose home with Weaver.

OPERA LECTURER — Dr. Jan Popper, director of opera at UCLA, will lecture on Donizetti's "La Favorita" Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Del Mar School auditorium, the first in a series of four opera discussions to be presented by Opera Action of Marin this fall. "La Favorita" opened the San Francisco opera season Friday night.

Cargo Plane Crash Kills 6 In Alaska

COLD BAY, Alaska (UPI) — The rocky face of 4,834-foot Mount Dutton and the mists of the Aleutian Islands today kept investigators from reaching the wreckage of a World Airways DC8 in which six men died.

The plane, carrying a cargo of tires, crashed Saturday on a landing approach in fog and drizzle. The wreckage was sighted yesterday morning during a break in the heavy overcast that usually hangs over the Alaska peninsula.

Dave Krueger, a pilot for Reeve Aleutian Airlines, spotted the wreckage of the DC8 approximately 1,400 feet from the top of the mountain, 19 miles southeast of the Cold Bay Airport.

"It's pretty well shattered," radioed Krueger. "All I can see is the tail ... that's the only way I can tell it's a DC8."

Members of the Federal Aviation Agency and National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) were to make another try today to reach the nearly inaccessible crash site. The area appears too steep and rocky for a helicopter landing.

"It's rainy, foggy and windy up there six months of the year," said an airline pilot, "and the other six months it's snowing."

The plane, chartered by the Air Force to carry a load of tires from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines, plowed into the 3,400-foot level of Mount Dutton as it approached for a refueling stop.

An air force Medivac helicopter took advantage of the break in the weather to drop a crewman by hoist. The crewman visited the wreckage for 10 minutes and determined that all six crewmembers were dead.

The rough terrain may mean that the bodies can't be lifted out by helicopter and that an Army mountain rescue team will have to be dropped to carry them out.

Those killed were pilot John A. Winger, 55, San Jose, Calif., 1st officer Greg W. Evans, 27, Mountain View, Calif., and engineer Robert W. Brocklesby, 46, Fremont, Calif.

Others aboard the plane were Keiji Kato, 45, station manager at Yokota, Japan, and off-duty officers Harry J. Werner, 31, Sparta, N.J., and Scott B. Chapman, 30, Hayward, Calif.

Astronauts Photograph Dry Areas

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab II astronauts today photographed six African nations ravaged by drought, hoping the pictures will help alleviate such conditions in the future.

Alan L. Bean, Dr. Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma awakened an hour earlier than normal to snap the pictures in a pass just south of the Sahara.

Countries photographed were Mali, Senegal, Mauritania, Niger, Upper Volta and Chad.

A mission control spokesman said these nations have been hit hard by drought conditions in the last four or five years, threatening millions of people with famine or disease.

"It is hoped the high resolution photographs from Skylab will contribute to the reduction of such famine in the future by identifying water and mineral resources and the pattern of vegetation," the spokesman said.

After more than seven weeks in space, the Skylab II astronauts were reported in good health.

Yesterday was to have been an off day, but the space travelers requested a full slate of activities, allowing spare time only to take their weekly showers. They did the same on their five earlier off days.

Council To Study Fire Station Site

The San Anselmo City Council will consider the location of a new central city fire station when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

The council will also review plans for a volunteer clean up of Robson Park, consider a policy on crossing guards proposed by colleague Martin G. Blinder and consider appointments to the parks and recreation commission and the design review committee.

Watergate Seen As Help To GOP

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican National Chairman George Bush says the party is strong enough to profit from the Watergate scandal, which has produced a backlash that can reap votes in 1974 state and congressional elections.

But he also thinks inflation and high prices could be more

Seattle Begins Free Downtown Bus Runs

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Bus travel in downtown Seattle costs nothing any more.

The city launched the most ambitious free bus service in the nation yesterday with "magic carpet" rides in the congested downtown area aimed at reducing auto traffic and air pollution.

The City Council voted $64,000 for a one-year experiment, but Metro Transit Director Carle H. Salley Jr. believes the project will be so successful it will run indefinitely.

"This has never been done before on as large a scale or for as long a period as we are doing in Seattle," said Salley. "I'm very enthusiastic and optimistic that this will be something ongoing."

The project was agreed to by the transit district and the City Council without the usual expensive survey to find out if free bus service in the busiest downtown area would be feasible.

"Everyone simply believed the project would produce the desired results," Salley said.

Kennedy Calls On Nixon To Stop Blaming Others

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said over the weekend President Nixon should "stop using Watergate as a scapegoat for the failure of his own administration."

The President, he said, can put Watergate behind him by releasing the tape recordings made of White House meetings and telephone conversations.

"I think it's long past time for the President to stop using noble principles like executive privilege and separation of powers for excuses for not dealing squarely with the American people," Kennedy told a fund-raising gathering Saturday. "It's time to start cooperating with Congress and the courts to get Watergate behind us."

"The biggest single obstacle to putting Watergate behind us is the President's own refusal to give up the tapes," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said also the current Congress has not been a disappointment and, in fact, would

State Patrolman Urged To End Bond Deductions

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The California Association of Highway Patrolmen is urging its 6,000 members to discontinue payroll deductions for U.S. savings bonds in protest of the recent federal rollback of state employee raises.

$6 Said Taken In Armed Robbery

Two men, one armed with a revolver, robbed Charles D. Cherry of Gate Six Road, Waldo Point, of $6 in Marin City at 10:30 p.m. yesterday, according to sheriff's deputies.

Deputies reported that Cherry was parking his car at Gate Six Road when the two men ordered him to drive to Marin City, and when they arrived there, robbed him.

"I think the Republican party is going to do all right once it gets beyond this superconcentration on Watergate," Bush said. "But I think that inflation, and especially food prices, are a problem."

After a meeting of Southern Republican state chairmen yesterday, Mississippi GOP chairman Clarke Reed said, "We feel the Watergate backlash will be a boon to Republicans in the elections of 1974 and 1976."

One member, State Chairman Clarence E. Warner of Oklahoma, said the only exception to the backlash was that the Watergate scandal has cut off big financial donations — "$500 and up is what we call big money."

He said one former big contributor wrote on his pledge card, "If the Republican party can pay $400,000 in blackmail payments they don't need my $500."

Bush was optimistic about

Republican chances next year based on recent special elections, in which GOP candidates won a congressional seat in Maryland and five state posts in California.

The next big tests come this fall in races for governor of Virginia and New Jersey.

The biggest party issue, according to many of the GOP leaders here is new rules for selecting delegates to the 1976 national convention.

The 1972 convention voted down giving a special committee a mandate to propose quotas such as adopted by the Democrats. But some Republican Committee members said they fear their party might veer in the same direction. Bush, while seeing a need for a "widely divergent" delegate representation, said it is imperative the Republicans do not impose quotas by race, sex or age.

The rule making committee meets tomorrow.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Columns Make It Sound Like Divorce Beats Trying Again

DEAR HELEN:

Excuse me if I'm wrong, but it seems that lately when people write about miserable marriages and ask "Should I call it quits?" you side more with quitting than trying again.

Why don't you give them ways to mend their rifts, not cut loose? — NO QUITTER

DEAR N.Q.:

I've reviewed past columns and — you're right. In several I have implied that divorce is preferable to wasting your life in a situation you can't change.

Perhaps I should dwell more on rx and less on ex-, but on the other hand, these desperately unhappy people tell me they have already "tried everything and failed." Existing in what they feel is a hopeless situation, they want reassurance that their decision to get out won't be all wrong. And so I suggest one more shot at marriage counseling and then — "Don't resign yourself to misery."

And sometimes that one last try at counseling pulls them through.

Here's a letter that offers long-distance therapy:

DEAR HELEN:

I have just read the letter from "Might as Well Be Single," whose husband wants a mother not a wife, and who is always out with the boys or girls. Divorce is the only alternative nowadays it seems. People enter marriage thinking, "If it doesn't work, there's a way out."

I see marriage as a lifetime partnership — which is something to be worked at. If MAWBS's husband spends so little time with her, there must be a reason. Maybe he isn't pleased with what he finds at home. Does she complain; give him the cold freeze? If she would make it a point to meet him at the door next time with a welcoming kiss, smelling of perfume, looking fantastic, and with his favorite meal on the stove, then keep it up for a week, maybe forever, I'll guarantee he couldn't get home fast enough! Obviously his other friends offer him more excitement than his own wife does.

I recommend a book, "How to Make Your Marriage Exciting" by Charles and Frances Hunter.

We women have more power than we know sometimes. — NEVER A DULL MOMENT

DEAR HELEN:

You're so right in telling older women that TLC will cure most temporary impotence in their mates. I like the thought on a greeting card we received recently:

"True love is not smooching in a parked car and the guy runs out of gas and the gal says she loves him... It's years later when they're smooching in the living room and he runs out of gas."

"And she still says she loves him..." — BETWEEN SILVER AND GOLDEN

DEAR HELEN:

This is probably a minor thing, but: how can I convince my wife that our six-months-old son just might like spinach, carrots, lamb, liver and egg, even though she hates them. She says she isn't going to force food she doesn't like on her child. She doesn't care for many vegetables and she's very particular about meat, so our meals are pretty limited. I was brought up on a farm and like almost anything. Opinion please? — DUKE

DEAR DUKE:

Tell your wife you want to raise an individual, not a carbon copy. A woman who insists

Dayle Harrington Becomes Bride Of Paul G. Andrews

Dayle F. Harrington and Paul G. Andrews were married at Our Lady of Loreto Church in Novato on Aug. 25.

Dayle is the daughter of Mrs. Donna R. Clinton of San Francisco and Vincent A. Harrington of Holliston, Mass., and Paul is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Warren L. Andrews of Novato.

Mrs. James Moran of San Rafael, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Tait of San Rafael, and Sally Baer and Linda Andrews of Novato, the bridegroom's sister.

Robert Tait of San Rafael served as best man, and ushering guests to their seats were Andy Arthur, John Howard and Steven Landman of Novato and Eugene Barnes of San Francisco.

A reception was held at the Officers Club at Hamilton Air Force Base. The couple will live in San Rafael.

The bride was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin. She is employed at the Ancient Mariner at the Town and Country Village in Mill Valley. She is also the sister of Julie Clinton of San Francisco and Timothy Harrington of Hollister. She will attend Diablo Valley College in Pleasant Hills.

And while you're talking, let her know you'd like variety, too. — H.

Radio Station Award Names Novato Woman

Mrs. Jim Martin of Novato has been given an outstanding resident of the day award.

Tina Martin's award from radio station KABL says "Each day an outstanding resident of the Bay Area is honored as KABL's citizen of the day." She was awarded the certificate on Aug. 30 on behalf of her work for Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

Mrs. Martin has been active in the membership drive for MARC, where she has been a member for over five years, and served as membership chairman for three years. Since she became membership chairman, the membership has grown from 79 members to 252.

The Martins have a child, Jeffery, 9 years old, who attends Forest Meadows Development Center in San Rafael. They also have a son, Robert, 4 years old.

Mrs. Martin has also worked with the retarded children at the Country Club Bowling alley and each week during the school year has been a volunteer at Forest Meadows.

How To Keep Garments In Shape

CUPERTINO (UPI) — The California Fabricare Institute says storing garments in heavy formed hangers will help clothes retain their shape.

If a formed hanger is not available, two or more wire hangers can be bound together to give proper shape and support.

Proof Needed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Children entering California public schools for the first time must show proof of immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, poliomyelitis and measles.

Nutritionist Questions The Starter Meal

NEW YORK — Risking sounding "almost sacrilegious," an eminent nutritionist asserted that "no everyone needs to start the day with a hearty meal."

At the same time, Dr. Jean Mayer suggested such items as tuna fish sandwiches, cold meat, leftovers from dinner, "or whatever else strikes your fancy" as acceptable breakfast fare for people who require it.

Writing in the September issue of Family Health, the Harvard nutritionist stated, "How well adults function with or without breakfast seems to be very much a matter of what they are used to." Dr. Mayer noted that in the world at large "our three meals a day is an exception rather than the rule" and that breakfast "in particular is extremely variable."

The nutritionist stressed, however, that children and adolescents "simply cannot last a whole morning of work and play without a substantial meal sometime in the morning."

Frederick Karl Smoot of Corte Madera served as best man.

After a camping trip to the Sierra, the couple will live in San Francisco.

Both of the couple were graduated from Galileo High School, and Peter was also graduated from City College of San Francisco.

Taste Test

If you double a recipe, do not double the amount of seasonings until you have taste tested.

Eric Pedley Will Wed San Francisco Woman

Eric L. Pedley of Belvedere will claim Mrs. C. Carroll McGettigan of San Francisco as his bride tomorrow at St. Edward's Church in San Francisco.

Molly Fae McGettigan will be given in marriage by her son, Charles C. McGettigan Jr. of New York City. Her daughters, Patricia McGettigan of San Francisco and Mrs. Michael Arthur and her husband of San Diego, will attend.

The bridegroom, who was mayor of Belvedere 18 years ago, chose as his best man his son, Eric A. Pedley of San Francisco. His daughters, Mrs. Don Voorhees of Napa and Mrs. John Hernan of Belvedere, and their husbands will attend.

A family reception is planned at Mrs. McGettigan's Clay Street home in San Francisco following the nearby 5 p.m. ceremony. On Wednesday the couple will leave on a wedding trip to England and Spain. Upon their return they will live on the Belvedere Lagoon.

Long Dress Fits In Well Today

Marc Bohan for Dior says the ankle-length dress for late day "fits in beautifully with the lives women lead now," according to Women's Wear Daily.

Bohan's dresses are cut like an easy-fitting shirt and shaped at the waist with an inset band and slashed trouser pockets in the soft skirt.

Students Now A Part Of Tamalpais P-TA

"The Tamalpais Parent-Teacher Association is now a Parent-Teacher-Student Association, with students joining as full and equal partners," said Mrs. F. Henning Bauer of Mill Valley, the organization's new president.

"The ultimate goal is the cooperation of parents, teachers and students as they work together on common concerns."

Immediate projects are the assistance of the PTSA at the American Field Service, Tamalpais High School Chapter, rummage sale Sept. 15 and 16, and hosting Marin County College Night at the high school in Mill Valley on Oct. 4. It will also sponsor a program devoted to new ideas in student counseling in cooperation with the Tamalpais High School counseling department on Nov. 5.

It will be the responsibility of the newly appointed parent information chairman, Mrs. Douglas Redfern, to coordinate small groups of parents for conferences with the principal, Laurence E. Sheppard. Conducted tours of the school will also be made available to the visiting parents, Mrs. Bauer explained.

The new president has been a member of the PTSA for one year, and is also active in the

Silk Is Fading From Dress Scene

There's some fashion news in what you won't be seeing much of the "chinoiserie" in vogue after President Nixon's trip to Peking is fading from the scene.

So, sad to say, are such luxury fabrics as silk, which are giving way to synthetics both because of the practical advantages of manmade fibers. (Remember how silk dresses would develop lap creases?) and because of the shortage of the old luxury fabrics.

There's Real Reality In New Real

By LOUIS CHAPIN
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service
NEW YORK — On one of the second-floor gallery walls at the New York Cultural Center, at about eye-level, is a formidable-looking fire-alarm box that probably went unnoticed during Huntington Hartford's original ownership.

Yet on two particular occasions since then that brass box with the red handle has stopped me on the way by. The first time was during a show of conceptual art two or three years ago.

The second was just the other day, during the current show (until Sept. 30) of "Reality and Trompe-l'oeil by French New Real Painters," when at first glance it might have been a realistic oil painting on canvas. Compared to the dazzling, affectionate redness of Claude Yvel's "Fire Extinguisher," in the next room, however, it wouldn't quite make it. It might be real, but it wasn't New Real.

How new, actually, is this real? I wondered at first if these four Parisians — whose show has come here from the Pollock Gallery in Toronto — were jumping on a bandwagon harnessed to American Neorealism and Hyperrealism. Then I saw the dates on their works, running back to the early 1960s. And I read in the catalog that Mr. Yvel and the others were assiduously studying 17th-century Dutch technique during the '50s, inviting "the hostility and indifference" of a Paris art world caught up in Abstract Expressionism.

If they've jumped on any American bandwagon, it's one that hasn't rolled much since the late 1800s. At a time when other French artists were discovering the cosmic drips of Jackson Pollock, these men were discovering the trompe-l'oeil bulletin boards of Harnett and Peto.

Furthermore, they didn't just revive the illusionism of this style; they updated its devotion to the ordinary, in use. American Pop and neorealistic art have inclined toward the store-bought newness of things we have nearly forgotten the vividness that comes to color through the slight subtle discoloredations of use and of disuse.

Now we are reminded, across quite a spectrum. The handprint of humanity is on most of these subjects: the sparse, hung-up miscellanea of Henri Cadou's "Flea Market," the major item being a Picasso-esque painting; Jean Malice's "Television," with a screenful of General de Gaulle gesturing mid-Gallicism, or the textural impact of his "Bricks and Plaster" (wood-grain is a favorite exercise here as well); the vibrant, cherished animism of a motorcycle in Mr. Yvel's "Ariel 500," and the incense of machine-worship in his "Garage."

The range takes in a few intimate cityscapes, work interiors, any number of household items, a few real "trompe" cards, and some views of

"Shantytown" by Yvel as agreeable to the eye as anything remembered from "House Beautiful."

In contrast to the people-orientation of Neorealism, human beings are generally out of sight, alive and breathing through the things they live with. One exception is Malice's smoothly glowing girl in "The Oil Lamp."

All four artists show patience, polish and wit. Mr. Yvel, the most amply represented, is certainly the most beguiling in color. This realism is a delight of look and technique.

But I was almost surprised, in Malice's "Paint Roller," to find his representation of some patchily rolled-on paint to be more appealing than his representation of the roller itself. The color was the same, the texture was similar. Why did one area look alive, the other relatively dead?

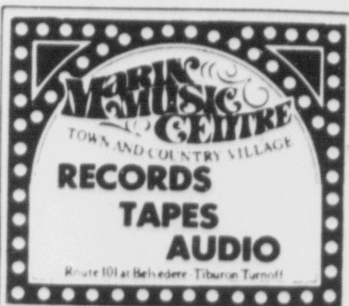

Simply because here, coming out from hiding behind all those remarkable pictures, was that old-fashioned abstract-expressionist commodity of paint.

Reduction Urged In Use Of X-Ray

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nuclear physicist Ralph E. Lapp said today that restrictions on the use of the X-ray machine could avoid as many as 50,000 radiation-induced deaths for the rest of the century.

Lapp, who helped develop the atomic bomb, urged scientists attending a meeting of the International Radiation Protection Association to attempt to persuade the medical profession to reduce the diagnostic dose from X-rays.

He also said in a speech prepared for the opening session of the meeting that reduction of radiation doses to the public should become a national objective.

Playwright Behrman, 80, Dies In New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — S.N. Behrman, the humorist, playwright and author, died yesterday of an apparent heart attack. He was 80.

Behrman's first comedy, produced on Broadway in 1927, was "The Second Man." It starred Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne.

Other plays included "Rain from Heaven" (1935), "No Time For Comedy" (1939), "Dunigan's Daughter" (1945) and "Fanny" (1954). His last play, "But For Whom Charlie," appeared in 1964.

"The smiling, friendly, humorous personality of this playwright has been a beloved creature of life in the theater for nearly half a century," Brooks Atkinson, the critic, wrote in the New York Times in an appreciation of Behrman's life. "...A civilized man came into the theater with a light and jaunty step. During the next quarter of a century the finest American comedies of manners followed."

Although confined to a wheelchair for the last two years and blind in recent months, Behrman continued to write until just before he died.

His last work, a memoir, was published in June, 1972.

Private services were being planned for New York.

Falling Horse Injures 25 In Night Club

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Twenty-five persons were injured, none seriously, when a horse leaped from the stage and landed on ringside tables during the Lido de Paris show at the Stardust Hotel Saturday night.

The black, costumed horse bolted as it crossed the stage to take a bow after a medieval joust scene, threw its rider and plunged six feet onto the tables as a dinner crowd of 800 watched.

"At first we thought it was part of the act," said Mrs. John Reilly of San Marino, Calif., who was seated in the rear of the room.

"But when we heard the yelling and the tables and dishes breaking we knew something was wrong. The whole show busted up."

All of the injured were treated and released at area hospitals.

INTERNS — San Rafael City administrative intern Robert D. Selmi watches his fellow intern, Patricia M. Gaffney, at work in city hall. Routine tasks, like filing, were the exception rather than the rule during their tenure, the college students said yesterday as they ended a two-month internship.

WORKING FOR THE CITY

The Perfect Job For A Summer

By NELS JOHNSON

Spending a summer working for the City of San Rafael is the perfect summer job, according to two San Rafael college students.

Patricia M. Gaffney, 21, and Robert D. Selmi, 20, both seniors at the University of California at Davis, logged their last day Friday as administrative interns for City Mgr. William J. Bielser.

Both Miss Gaffney, a public administration major, and Selmi, a political science major, said they learned more from their stint with the city than textbooks could ever offer.

"Experience is what is important," said Miss Gaffney. "Textbooks just don't give the whole of it all."

The pair was hired July 9, selected from 50 applicants, according to Bielser, who resurfaced the internship program abandoned by a former city administration.

Miss Gaffney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gaffney of 67 Edward Avenue, did a comparative analysis of four offset printing firms, then recommended the city buy offset press equipment from one of them. She also analyzed the educational incentive pay system in the police department — and recommended that employees issue regular personal education progress reports — and conducted an inventory of city office equipment.

In addition she inventoried city lease agreements and discovered that many were out of date; reviewed the fall recreational fee schedule and found it adequate. In analyzing city sick leave policy and attendance records in the fire and public works departments, Miss Gaffney discovered that three public works employees regularly abused sick leave privileges by calling in sick on Fridays or Mondays.

Selmi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic J. Selmi of 115 Ridge-wood Drive, conducted a detailed survey of the San Rafael Canal, studying its history, problems, and dredging needs. He recommended the city form a citizen's advisory committee on the long-neglected channel.

Selmi also researched and drafted a proposed houseboat ordinance, using a county ordinance as a model. He analyzed the city's "equipment revolving fund" and recommended it be revised since the account wasn't charging various city departments enough to cover costs of maintaining equipment. In addition, Selmi developed a grievance procedure for city employees who have a beef and studied sick leave procedures in the police department.

Selmi, who worked during June with a San Rafael Sanitation District weed crew before becoming an intern, praised the city's employees. "The people who run San Rafael are competent and capable. They know what they're doing," he said.

Miss Gaffney expressed admiration for the city manager. "He's really a good businessman, with a good management head. He's sharp-witted and innovative," she said.

She was impressed with the complexity of municipal operations. "I had always thought of city government as being elementary," she said. "But it's very complex. You have to follow administrative procedure."

Both interns worked with most city department heads, sat in on staff and agenda meetings, attended council meetings and learned a great deal about city functions.

Both said they are looking forward to careers in city government. (Robert Christofferson, who was a San Rafael city administrative intern 15 years ago, is now city manager of the City of Salinas, Bielser said). "Without a doubt these interns have made a significant and valuable contribution to the city while at the same time advancing their own careers," he said.

Hub Man Suspected In Assault

An 18-year-old San Anselmo man was arrested on suspicion of attempted rape Saturday night minutes after a masked man burst into a San Anselmo home and dragged a 16-year-old girl to a bedroom before fleeing when she screamed.

James McMahon Jacobson of 1405 San Anselmo Avenue was also booked on suspicion of rape and assault with a deadly weapon in connection with an attack on an 18-year-old San Anselmo woman Aug. 9.

He was held in lieu of $30,000 bail in Marin County Jail to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said Jacobson was arrested in a van officers passed on Redwood Road while they were responding to a report of an attack in a home on Floribel Avenue at 9:40 p.m.

A man wearing a white mask burst through an unlocked door, dragged the 16-year-old girl from a living room couch to a bedroom and threw her on a bed before fleeing amid her screams and a claim her father was due shortly, police said.

The man first threatened to kill her, then said he would not harm her, police said.

Officers said they found a white mask in the van driven by Jacobson, and said his description matched that of a man who threatened a San Anselmo woman with a knife Aug. 9, then raped her in bushes off Bolinas Avenue.

San Anselmo Police Capt. G. Albert Howenstein said he could see no link between the Saturday attack and the rape and robbery of two couples in Terra Linda and Lucas Valley last Wednesday and Thursday.

In those cases, two men rammed through two homes, bound the husbands with electrical cord and raped the wives twice before fleeing.

San Rafael Deputy Police Chief Thomas L. Stephenson said today there are no new leads in the case, and said authorities "have no suspects at all."

Petaluma Man Hurt In Wreck

A Petaluma man was injured yesterday when his car rolled into a ditch on Middle Two Rock Road near Wilson Lane, west of Petaluma.

Duane E. Clarke, 26, of 416 Kent Street, was reported in satisfactory condition at Hillcrest Hospital with a back injury. A passenger, Robert Wood, 22, of Fettes Springs, was treated for cuts.

The California Highway Patrol said Clarke swerved to avoid an oncoming car and went down a 30-foot drainage ditch at 3:20 p.m.

Record For Playing The Organ Broken

VAN NUYS, Calif. (UPI) — Playing the electric organ is a good way for a 23-year-old law student to relax, but Steve Gail probably will seek a different way to unwind—at least for a while.

Gail eclipsed the old marathon mark of 64 hours—set in 1971 by James A. Barron of Australia — yesterday morning. He started playing the organ at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Planner Hopeful Likes Rural Air

(Last in a series of stories on applicants for a vacant seat on the Fairfax Planning Commission)

John Joseph Bennett is seeking appointment to the Fairfax Planning Commission because he doesn't want to see the town "degrade into a San Rafael metropolis."

Bennett is among five applicants for the seat vacated by the resignation of commissioner Gloria Duncan. Mayor E. Ross Parkerson will fill the seat at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Fairfax Women's Club.

The 25-year-old Bennett is a five-year resident of Fairfax who has attended Sacramento and San Francisco state universities. He is currently studying ornamental horticulture at the College of Marin.

A past editor of his high school newspaper, Bennett is a landscape gardener for Consumer Retail Services, Inc., a San Rafael firm. He lists rose-growing as a hobby.

"I want to maintain the rural atmosphere of Fairfax," he said, saying he is against large-scale development "unless it is aesthetically instituted." He described himself as a "conservationist who thinks twice about cutting trees down."

He said he opposes plans for Canon Village and Tennis Club, a 109-unit complex proposed for 88 acres along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and said Max Friedman's Marin Town and County Club property should be "absolutely preserved as public recreation for the city."

He said he supports a plan to convert the Fairfax Parkade into a midcity park, perhaps

Utility Extensions To Be Discussed

The Petaluma City Council will meet in joint session with the planning commission at 7 p.m. tomorrow to develop a policy on utility extensions.

The council has called a moratorium on connections until a policy can be prepared to extend sewer and water lines into fringe areas of the city.

Petaluman Is Killed In Collision

A Petaluma man was killed in a head-on collision Saturday on Lakeville Highway, east of Petaluma.

Theodore Stanley Green, 30, of 1509 Baywood Drive, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hillcrest Hospital after the 8:55 p.m. accident.

The California Highway Patrol said his northbound car drifted into the southbound lane and collided with a car driven by Richard Dickinson, 41, of Guerneville. Dickinson was treated for cuts.

Green operated Ted's Gulf Service, 400 Entrada Drive, Novato. He is survived by his wife, Sherry Green.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Keaton's Chapel of Marin, Novato.

JOHN JOSEPH BENNETT

with underground parking. He said he also supports widening of Sir Francis Drake and Center boulevards "if nice landscaping is included."

The most ideal future for Fairfax, he said, would be to convert the town "into another Carmel."

He called his youth and his enthusiasm assets, but said he has little chance of being appointed to the commission.

He lives at 114 Toyon Drive.

Reduced Master Plan On Tap

The Corte Madera Planning Commission is scheduled to consider a new, reduced master plan for the controversial Madera del Presidio project, at 7:30 p.m. today at Corte Madera Town Hall.

The project, originally slated to include 528 townhouses on 90 acres south of the Koch luggage plant, has been modified to 365 units.

The original plans were approved by the city council but halted by a citizens' suit last January.

Petaluma Crash Injures Two

Two men were injured in a motorcycle-truck accident Saturday at 8 p.m. on Ely Boulevard South at Weaverly Drive, Petaluma.

The motorcycle driver, Michael C. Casazza, 21, of 411 C Street, Petaluma, and his passenger, Roderick S. Streeter, 22, of San Francisco, were reported in satisfactory condition at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital with head injuries.

Police said the motorcycle collided with a pickup truck driven by Richard J. Lehnerr, 18, of 2260 Ely Boulevard South.

Regional Shopping Center On Agenda

The Larkspur city council will sit as the city's redevelopment agency at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in city hall to meet with representatives of the Rouse Company concerning plans for a regional shopping center in Larkspur.

A recent decision by the board of supervisors to withdraw objection to a fill permit for the proposed Corte Madera regional center and its effect on the Larkspur project will be discussed.

University Bus Service Is Started

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Direct bus service between the Golden Gate Bridge toll plaza and San Francisco State University has been started by the Municipal Railway.

The new service will permit students living in Marin to commute by bus for the first time. The 28 Line also passes Stonestown Shopping Center, and will be in service Mondays through Fridays.

The first southbound bus will leave the toll plaza at 6:45 a.m., arriving at the school at about 7:15. Coaches will leave approximately every 24 minutes until 9:02 p.m.

Northbound buses will arrive at the toll plaza beginning at 6:52 a.m., continuing through the day at 24-minute intervals until 8:15 p.m.

The line begins at Geneva and Mission streets and continues to Junipero Serra via Mission and Garfield, then up 19th and 25th avenues to Pershing Drive. With the extension, it will continue on Lincoln Avenue to the toll plaza. Its final northern destination is Divisadero and Chestnut streets.

All Golden Gate Transit commuter buses serve the toll plaza stop.

Planners To Pick A Vice Chairman

The San Rafael Planning Commission will elect a vice chairman when it meets at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

Commissioners failed to pick either James Dougan or Albert J. Boro for the post when a vote two weeks ago produced a 3-3 deadlock. Colleague John Starkweather, who was absent, is expected to break the tie.

The commission will also consider a request by Edward and Jordan Smith to fill a pond off Smith Ranch Road with 4,000 cubic yards of earth and boulders.

HACKING AND HEWING

Noel Gray of Emden, Ill., displayed the winning form during the National Rail Splitting Competition yesterday in Lincoln, Ill. Judged on time and accuracy, men split an oak log into eight rails. After battling his log for nearly 25 minutes, one contestant was heard to say: "I still say Abe can have it."

Volunteers Clean Up The Forests

FRESNO (UPI) —The Sierra National Forest has jobs available with free meals and lodging, fresh air and plenty of idyllic scenery—but no pay.

Unsurprisingly, there are some who have taken the volunteers jobs in the new program authorized by Congress.

Forest Information Officer Steve Beck says the program got underway last spring when volunteers were sought because the Forest Service lacked the funds or manpower to accomplish certain tasks.

Specifically, Beck says the meager amount of money budgeted for trail maintenance were barely enough for the major trails and as a result secondary trails were deteriorating. Campground maintenance was also unfunded.

The first flood of volunteers were teen-agers with little or no experience. But before the summer began more than a dozen talented people had applied.

Four college students, Mike Windsor, Larry Bailey, Eric Carpenter and Richard Grant, are maintaining trails in the Minarets Wilderness, removing fallen trees and rocks from trails.

Two women, Atwater high school teacher Nancy Knight and San Francisco secretary Susie Herzog, are conducting a trail condition survey in the Minarets to determine improvements needed, relocation of paths and the estimated cost.

Ms. Knight, a member of the Sierra Club, says the summer in the back country has given her an appreciation for wilderness management problems.

Miss Herzog is more specific about her sojourn in the Sierra. "A secretarial job in the city just couldn't compete with a summer in the wilderness, so I quit my job and here I am," she said.

The volunteers are performing other work beside trail and campground maintenance.

Humboldt State College forestry major Rod Robinson performed some office work on a timber inventory and is now working on a timber sale preparation near Huntington Lake.

Tom Martin and Bob Toll, Fresno State University students, worked on an engineering survey crew out of Bass Lake.

Joyce Bailey, youngest of the volunteers at 16, answers the phone and handles the forest service radio at the Minarets work center office. She also records fire weather data twice a day and issues campfire and wilderness permits.

There is even a father-and-son team. Bud Thompson, 38, of Los Banos, was camping at Big Sandy in July when motorcyclists roared into the campground stirring up dust and creating a ruckus.

Thompson, who had been unemployed, said he was "sick and tired of the way people were abusing the forest." So he asked rangers about the volunteer program and was given a campsite and the duties of keeping Summerdale campground clean, collecting fees and resolving disputes among campers.

Thompson recently got a paying job as work foreman for the neighborhood Youth Corps program and his son, Douglas, 17, took over as caretaker at the campground.

Beck says the jobs, while without economic benefits, provide experience to those planning careers in conservation or forest work, especially for the volunteers under 18 who can't find work elsewhere.

Most of the volunteers will return to school or jobs in September but Beck says some have indicated they would like to stay "until the snow flies."

He says anyone interested in working in the forest can contact Jack Weddle, manpower development coordinator at Sierra National Forest, 1130 "O" St., Fresno.

Beck says the forest is particularly looking for typists or researchers interested in compiling a history of the forest. Travel expenses will be paid to those volunteers accepted.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Summer And Fall 'Colds' Are Really Due To An Allergy

Many summer and fall "colds" are due to a sensitivity to pollen, dust, molds, animal dander, or other allergens. Antihistamines and decongestants are the usual remedies, but when these products fail to control the symptoms, an attempt must be made to find and eliminate the culprit. This is important, because untreated respiratory allergies may develop into asthma.

Allergic rhinitis is one of the most common of these disorders. It is confined mainly to the nose; sneezing, nasal discharge, and obstruction are the usual manifestations. Allergy is suspected when the sneezing recurs at the same time of the year (seasonal). After a few weeks, the nose "begins to run" and the sufferer has periods of nasal congestion and obstruction.

BUT NOT everyone with allergic rhinitis has symptoms at the same time of the year. Victims of perennial rhinitis are usually sensitive to house dust, molds, and the dander of household pets. These agents may exist during the entire year and allergy is suspected when the symptoms are aggravated following direct contact with the pet or following house cleaning.

The clinical picture is confusing when the cause stems from daytime exposure to dusts at work or in the home followed by congestion at night. The opposite occurs when there are morning symptoms at work from allergens inhaled at home during the night.

THE BEST plan is to avoid the causative agents. It helps to close the windows and doors. Ordinary air-conditioners do not have filters capable of reducing airborne allergens. Electrostatic filters are better, but not perfect. Treatment with antihistamines, decongestants, to a lesser extent, a steroid nasal spray usually brings the symptoms under control. Desensitization may be necessary when conservative measures fail.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Independent-Journal, P.O. Box 330, San Rafael, Ca. 94902. Telephone inquiries will not be answered.

down the hatch and the stomach acid kills it.

SPASTIC COLON

K. M. writes: Does smoking aggravate a spastic colon?

REPLY

Too many cigarettes may overstimulate the bowel and produce cramping.

TOO MUCH INSULIN

A. Y. writes: Is there any other condition besides diabetes in which too much insulin is produced?

REPLY

In diabetes, insulin is in short supply. I presume you mean hypoglycemia, a diagnosis that is popular today. Its victims have too little sugar in the blood because the pancreas is overactive or a tumor exists.

MULTIPLE AILMENTS

A reader writes: I have high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, and heart trouble. The doctor has me on four kinds of medicines. My head feels like a balloon and I'm losing vision in my left eye. Do you think all the medicine I'm taking is responsible for these symptoms?

REPLY

It could be, but your various ailments could also be responsible for these symptoms.

BLOOD MALIGNANCY

B. T. writes: Is leukemia considered cancer of the blood?

REPLY

It is usually considered to be a cancer of the blood-forming organs in which large numbers of abnormal white cells are produced. There are many different forms of leukemia and some respond better than others to treatment.

COLD MILK

S. S. writes: Is it harmful to give children (ages 2 and 5) milk right out of the refrigerator? It was told it has more nutritional value when taken cold. I've received many dirty looks from grandparents because of this. Perhaps, if you say it is okay, they will be convinced.

REPLY

There is no harm. Several years ago, a Florida pediatrician gave cold milk to babies and all thrived. Apparently, the stomach can "take it" and, with the passing months of years, it becomes a matter of preference. There are no differences in the nutritional value — cold or warm.

WATER ON KNEE

Mrs. L. W. writes: I had water drained from the knee three times in six weeks. Now it seems to be filling up again. Is there a permanent cure?

REPLY

Yes. Complete rest of the knee for six weeks may be needed. If this doesn't work, surgery may be necessary. Why do you have "water on the knee"? Discuss this with your physician the next time he suggests drainage.

Kuwait Says Hijackers To Be Tried

KUWAIT (UPI) —Kuwaiti officials vowed yesterday to put five captured Arab guerrillas on trial for seizing a group of Saudi Arabian diplomats in a bizarre attempt to free a jailed Palestinian leader.

Acting Premier Sheikh Saad Al-Abdallah said the gunmen, who surrendered Saturday when troops surrounded their jetliner at Kuwait Airport, would be tried on kidnapping and extortion charges.

All major Palestinian commando groups disassociated themselves with the guerrillas during the 81-1/2 hour ordeal which began at the Saudi Arabian Embassy in Paris and ended on the tarmac of Kuwait's modern airport.

Yasser Arafat, chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization, the umbrella guerrilla group, said he guerrillas would be "dealt with severely." The five claimed to be members of a previously unknown guerrilla group called "Al Iqab" (The Punishment).

The saga began in Paris early Wednesday when the guerrillas seized the Saudi Arabian Embassy and took 16 hostages.

The commandos freed all but four Saudi diplomats after a 27-hour stay at the embassy in return for a jetliner to fly them out of France. They flew a zigzag pattern over the Middle East before landing Thursday night at Kuwait.

The drama ended when local troops ringed their Boeing 707 parked in a corner of Kuwait Airport and ignored the gunmen's 14th and final threat to kill their four remaining hostages.

A wooden ladder was propped against the side of the jetliner and the guerrillas, carrying pistols and hand grenades, came down one by one, hands up in the air.

The four Saudi diplomats flew home yesterday, turning down requests for a news conference. They were unharmed.

Oil Crisis Deliberate, Says Nader

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Nader has accused the oil industry of deliberately creating a short term oil crisis to force construction of the Alaskan pipeline and lessen price competition.

"There's no question that the oil industry has been calculatingly developing a short term energy crisis in order to get what it wants out of Washington," Nader said yesterday in a UPI Washington Window interview.

He said one thing the industry hopes to gain is congressional approval of the proposed trans-Alaska oil pipeline, which is fought by environmentalists.

Another, Nader said, is the right of industry to develop offshore oil "on its own terms."

He said the oil industry also hopes to use the oil shortage "to drive out independent refineries and gasoline retailers which provide most of the price competition."

Nader summed up his view this way:

"The acid test of the oil industry's bad faith is the following: They knew that there was going to be an increase in demand for consumption of fuel as there is every year. Why didn't they ask the federal government to lift the oil import quota, which was restricting the importation of cheap foreign oil into the United States?"

Nader said that if the restrictions were lifted, "there would not be a short term energy crisis."

"There is an abundant short term supply of oil around the world—indeed, there is some evidence that even in the south-west portion of the United States, the oil industry is not leveling with the public about their natural gas supply," he claimed.

Weekend Auto Talks Do Little

DETROIT (UPI) —Faced with a Friday night strike deadline, the United Auto Workers and Chrysler continued to rely on their supercommittee to come up with a pattern setting wage agreement.

 After meeting through the weekend, UAW Vice President Douglas A. Fraser characterized the sessions as "not very productive." UAW President Leonard Woodcock said he was "now less hopeful" that a strike can be avoided.
 Woodcock hinted that Ford and General Motors may have a "clamp" on Chrysler in some area of the negotiations and said Chrysler bargainers have been unresponsive in the discussions.

Great Republican — Alfred M. Landon, the Kansan who suffered a crushing defeat by Franklin D. Roosevelt in his bid for the presidency in 1936, looks more like a winner than a loser. Since he's 84 years old (Sept. 9), he has seen presidents come and go. He has outlived every man who went to the White House except the present incumbent. Besides riding a horse every day at his farm near Topeka, Landon keeps busy managing his radio and oil interests.

Don't Forget To Read Fine Print; It Can Be Important

The next time you and your lawyer go into the drugstore to buy a deck of cards, read the fine print very carefully before you close the deal. A good contract should say: "Party of first part doesn't have to signal if he doesn't want to."

MURDERS HAND
Just a short time ago, I saw a party of the first part commit mayhem on a contract. If you're not a legal beagle, this means that he murdered the hand. All because he didn't read that fine print.

West opened the ace of spades, and East was the gent who didn't know his rights. East thought he just had to signal with the nine of spades to show he had the king.

Before you could say Magna Carta, West had continued with the jack of spades and then a third spade.

NO TEARS
South shed no tears over this defense. He ruffed the third spade, drew trumps and knocked out the ace of diamonds. He then claimed the rest of the tricks.

Even if you never passed a bar examination you can see that East's nine of spades at that first trick was a misdemeanor. Since East didn't really want a spade continuation he should not have played a high spade. (East doesn't need the gift of prophecy to foresee exactly what will happen if spades are continued.)

LOWEST SPADE
If East plays the deuce of spades at the first trick, discouraging a continuation, West will naturally switch to his singleton diamond. South will go down before he knows what is happening, since West will get at least one diamond ruff.

Save your encouraging signals for when you mean business.

U.S. Keeps Top Swim Ranking Intact; DeMont Loses

BELGRADE (UPI) — Despite six world record shattering performances by East Germany's teen-age giants, the United States emerged from the first World Aquatic Championships yesterday with its place at the top of global swimming still intact.

Rick DeMont, however, found himself unseated as the world's top distance swimmer by Steve Holland of Australia, who won their head-to-head confrontation in the 1,500-meter freestyle Saturday in world record time of 15:31.85.

The Terra Linda star shattered Holland's previous record by two seconds with a 15:35.44 clocking, but trailed all the way and was unable to overhaul the Aussie with a finishing kick.

DeMont picked up a silver medal to go with the gold he won Thursday by taking the 400 free in world record time of 3:58.18.

The Marin Aquatic Club's other entrant, Robin Backhaus of San Rafael, finished third Saturday in the 100-meter butterfly in 56.52. Canadian Bruce Robertson triumphed in 55.37 and Joe Bottom of Santa Clara was second in 56.37.

For his week's work, Backhaus showed gold medals in the 200 fly (2:03.32) and the 800 free relay as his team swam to a world record 7:33.32 with Backhaus recording 1:53.27.

Holland said he missed the signal at the end of the race and "just kept going to make sure." He led DuMont through an extra 100 meters.

meter lengths like a metronome in 62 seconds, easily held on to win.

The United States was unable to assure itself of the team championship for the meet until the men's medley relay team won the 15th and most vital gold medal in 3:49.49.

East Germany was second and so lost its chance to add to its gold medal total of 13 and tie with the United States.

Jim Montgomery, of Madison, Wis., who earlier won the 100 meters sprint title, swam the anchor leg and managed to hold onto the three meter lead over the East Germans built up by Californians Mike Stamm of San Diego, John Hencken and Bottom.

The last world mark to fall yesterday went to Italy's 19-year-old Novella Calligaris who swam away from Jo Harshbarger to clock 8:52.97 for the 800 meters.

David Wilkie gave Britain a gold and her first breaststroke world record since 1914 with a clocking of 2:19.28 for the 200 meters. East Germany's Roland Matthes confirmed his reputation as the world's best backstroke — adding golds in the 100 and 200 to his golds from Munich and Mexico. He also improved his 200 meter mark to 2:01.87.

The meet produced no Spitz blitz — the biggest individual winners were Montgomery, East Germany's Kornelia Enders and synchronized swimmer Teresa Andersen of Santa Clara, each collecting three apiece — but rather displayed the depth and variety of U.S. swimming talent.

The U.S. women only had two victories. Triple Olympic gold medalist Melissa Belote of Springfield, Va., won the 100 meters backstroke and Keena Rothhammer of Santa Clara, edged East Germany's Andrea Eife in the 400 meters freestyle in one of the closest finishes of the championships.

Blue, Busby Hurl Tonight

OAKLAND (UPI)—A lot of things happened to the Oakland Athletics over the weekend and none of them was good.

They dropped three straight to the lowly Texas Rangers under new Manager Billy Martin, lost outfielder Reggie Jackson for about three weeks with a hamstring pull and ended up only four games ahead of Kansas City in the American League West.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, the A's open a key three-game series with the Royals at the Oakland Coliseum. Vida Blue (16-9) of the A's will duel Steve Busby (14-12).

Jim Bibby, who no-hit Oakland the first time he faced the A's, allowed them only two hits last night before retiring in the eighth with a pulled leg muscle as Texas won 5-3.

Bibby allowed only an infield hit to Dick Green in the fifth and a two-out single to Sal Bando in the eighth. Reliever Lloyd Allen came in and gave up a two-run triple to Pat Bourque and a run-scoring single to Jesus Alou.

Hunter surrendered three runs in the first. Vic Harris belted his first homer of the season for Texas in the fourth and the Rangers scored again in the sixth on back-to-back doubles by Jeff Burroughs and Bill Malock.

On Saturday night, Jackson, who leads the majors with 112 runs batted in, pulled a lateral hamstring in his right leg while running from first to third base on Joe Rudi's double. The A's lost, 4-3.

He flew back to Oakland yesterday morning and was examined at Merritt Hospital. Doctors said Jackson probably could pinch-hit in 10 days and play in three weeks.

NEWCOMBE'S VICTORY Forest Hills Fans Discussing Aussie

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—While the men who would like to control the game argued among themselves in the bowels of the West Side Tennis Club stadium yesterday the people who really mattered — the fans — talked of nothing but the magnificent men's final, in which John Newcombe of Australia emerged as champion.

Newcombe, winning here for the first time since his amateur victory of 1967, had underlined the right of a man to play where he chose to play. He had faced the finest field tennis has seen this year, and he had conquered in the final, 6-4, 1-6, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3. Wimbledon winner Jan Kodes.

Playing in only nine tournaments this year, while the majority of the starting field of 124 men had been traipsing the globe since January, Newcombe proved a man could shun that grind, and still win the prestige, as well as the $25,000, that goes with the U.S. Open crown.

It was a fine match, in which Kodes tried valiantly but vainly to duplicate his stunning win in Saturday's moonlight over the world's premier player, Stan Smith.

There were many who downgraded Kodes' Wimbledon win, because Smith, Newcombe and almost all the world's top players had boycotted the hallowed Centre Court.

But yesterday Kodes underlined the fact that he was truly one of the best players in the world, and that while he had had easy passage to the Wimbledon title, where he beat Russia's Alex Metreveli in the final, he certainly deserved to be seeded here higher than sixth.

And in this final, he had Newcombe down two sets to one, before the Australian put together a surge which the 50-

Stewart Has Philosophy In Auto Racing

Monza, Italy (UPI) —When Jackie Stewart pulled into the pits with a punctured tire on the ninth lap of the Italian Grand Prix it looked as though he was out of the running. So he tried even harder.

He didn't finish first yesterday but he set a new lap record and he clinched his third world championship title.

"You know," he said later, "the big thing in motor racing is never, never give up."

It was a good day for the Scottish Tyrrel driver and it was a good day for Ronnie Peterson of Sweden, who won the 44th edition of the Formula One classic in a John Player Lotus Special.

The 1972 world champion, Emerson Fittipaldi of Brazil, was second in another John Player Lotus Special. If Peterson had made way for his teammate to pass him Fittipaldi still would have had a chance to tie Stewart for the title in the remaining two races of the season.

"Me, too," Fittipaldi said with a wry smile. "I can't understand it. Before the race we just talked very briefly but I was sure they would help me win the championship."

Fittipaldi said now he would have to reconsider his decision to sign for another year with Lotus. He has offers from Brabham and McLaren and to replace Stewart at Tyrrel if Stewart retires.

Peterson, averaging 132.338 miles an hour in his winning ride, started drinking champagne the moment he pulled into the pits. On the victory stand the 6-foot, blond baker's son from Orebro, Sweden, popped the cork of a magnum, shook it and sprayed the crowd below. Then he took a drink from a big trophy cup held by his girlfriend, Barbro Edvardson.

"I would have had to let Emerson pass me if he really tried but I wasn't about to step aside," Peterson said later, watching Lotus mechanics load the team cars onto a transporter. A cordon of police kept back hundreds of fans.

The team orders, he said, were to let Fittipaldi go into the lead if Stewart dropped out. "I was informed at all times during the race of Stewart's position but when I saw Stewart was in fourth place there was no way I would let Emerson by," Peterson said.

A BUDDING COMPETITOR

Unlimited Powerboat Miss Budweiser, driven by Dean Chenoweth of Xenia, Ohio, passed a competitor on a turn on the Detroit River in the final heat of the National Champions

Regatta yesterday. The boat won all three of its heats, including the championship heat in 106.382 miles per hour, to capture the title.

Weiskopf's Win Matter Of Pride

World Series Of Golf King Reaches Goal

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Tom Weiskopf's earnings for the year are past the $300,000 mark now, but the reason he beat Jack Nicklaus to win the World Series of Golf had nothing to do with money.

Weiskopf put it best when someone asked him what was most important about his sixth tournament victory of the year. It's called pride.

"It was very much of a personal goal for me," he said. "I just thought, I've had such a tremendous year, and it would mean so much to me if I could beat Jack, who's the greatest player in the game."

"I've worked so hard this year to play well, and I just thought that I was a good enough player and I'd never really played him head-to-head," Weiskopf said. "I really wanted to beat him... and I think that was the difference of why I played good."

Weiskopf did that, holding off a superlative charge by the Golden Bear, shooting a four-under-par 68 and collecting the $36,000 winner's check yesterday with a 36-hole total of 137.

Nicklaus, his former Ohio State teammate, long-time friend and winner of more major golf titles than anyone in history, finally faded in the stretch to finish 69-140 and tie Johnny Miller, who had a 67 yesterday, for second place. Tommy Aaron was never a factor in the classy, four-man field of major champions, and finished last with 73-149.

The decision was settled on the huge, slick greens of Firestone Country Club where Weiskopf, who says he hasn't had a bad putting week since acquiring a new putter in May, one-putted eight times — while Nicklaus blew himself out of it by missing a couple of "gimmies," one of two feet and the other two and a half.

Nicklaus and Miller each earned $11,250 and Aaron received $5,000 for the tourney. "I can honestly say that's the best putting I've ever seen," said Miller, the U.S. Open champion. "I figured if I shot 68 or 69, I'd win, and I wind up shooting 67 and losing by three."

"If I'm not considered the putter of the year, I'll be very disappointed," said Weiskopf, who's probably in line for more honors than that — like PGA Player-of-the-Year.

"It's a game of many shots

TOM WEISKOPF Win for pride

but it really gets down to putting," he said.

The issue yesterday wasn't really putting, however. It was really just a man-against-man battle, a fact Weiskopf recognized when he said "it was like match play...I didn't really play the course, I played Jack."

While Miller lurked a couple of strokes behind, unable to get a charge going, Nicklaus strung seven successive threes — five of them birdies — to tie Weiskopf with six holes left, and said "I didn't think I would lose from that point on."

Even after both he and Weiskopf bogeyed No. 13, Nicklaus said, "I felt I was in the driver's seat," but Weiskopf made a 20-foot birdie putt from the edge of the 14th green and was in front to stay.

Wosser Wins Yacht Title; Plans To Quit

Jake Wosser of Tiburon, who admitted "I wanted to go out with a win," will phase himself out of international class yacht racing following his victory in the International One Design championship regatta.

Wosser Saturday won the regatta's final race on San Francisco Bay to capture an unprecedented third championship with 6 1/4 points to 12 1/2 for defending champion Bill Widnall of Marblehead, Mass.

"It's good to quit when you're winning," said Wosser, 54, a top sailor for three decades. "I'm not retiring from sailing, but this is my last I.C. (international class) race."

Wosser said he will race in the Delmas Cup if it is scheduled, but then will sell his boat. He also is planning to sail the ketch Windward Passage against traditional rival Blackfin in an upcoming race.

"I felt all the time we were going to win," said Wosser of the IOD regatta. Although two-time champion Widnall won the first two races of the best-five-of-six series, "at no time in the whole regatta at any mark were we worse than third — and that kind of consistency is bound to get you something," Wosser said.

Wosser won his previous titles in 1965 and 1966, but hadn't competed since a second-place finish in 1969. No race was held last year.

Jim Davies of San Rafael was third overall with 13 points and Eric Schou of Sausalito was in front to stay.

Juan Faces Ford, Braves

ATLANTA (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, their otherwise successful homestand turned sour on a pair of weekend defeats to Houston, try to regroup against the lowly but hard-hitting Atlanta Braves tonight in the first game of a nine-game road trip.

Juan Marichal, who missed his last turn because of a cold, is the man the Giants will be banking on — just as in days of old — tonight against rookie left-hander Wendy Ford of the Braves.

"Now the pressure is really on us to win," moaned Giant Manager Charlie Fox yesterday after watching his Giants turn a 3-1 lead into a 5-4 loss to the Astros. One pitch by Randy Moffitt made the difference.

With the Giants ahead 3-2, one out in the eighth and runners at first and third, Moffitt fed Lee May a fastball and May drilled a three-run homer for a 5-3 lead.

"Losing Saturday's game to the Astros (9-7) wasn't near as tough to take as this one," said Fox, "because we were playing catchup Saturday right from the start. This game (Sunday's) we should have won. All we needed was six more outs."

In the bottom of the eighth,

Dave Kingman hit his 20th homer to cut the lead to a run. Bobby Bonds opened the game with his 38th homer to tie a record. Bonds' homer was his 11th of the year leading off a game and it marked the 28th he has hit in his career as the first batter up, tying the major league record held by Eddie Yost, the former Washington third baseman and now a coach with the New York Mets.

Tom Bradley, worked over roughly in his last two starts, will pitch tomorrow night against Ron Schueler and Wednesday night, Ron Bryant will face Carl Morton.

RAIDERS' RUNNER Clarence Shows He Is Not Too Small

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—"It's like they tell you, Clarence Davis is too small to play pro ball," says Clarence Davis.

"But I know what I can do," adds the 5-foot-10 running back of the Oakland Raiders.

He showed his teammates — "the guys who kid me a lot" — and the Buffalo Bills that he knows what he's talking about.

Davis had a field day against the Bills in the teams' final National Football League preseason game Saturday night, scoring two touchdowns and rushing for 118 yards in 10 carries as the Raiders won, 17-7.

Davis' size probably was a factor in his first touchdown run of 46 yards. Taking a hand-off from quarterback Ken Stabler, Davis cut to his left and saw three Buffalo defenders coming at him.

He ducked under the trio, they collided, and Davis was off and running the final 35 yards unmolested.

"I knew it would sometime happen that if they covered on me, they might hit each other and knock themselves off balance," Davis said in the dressing room.

"So I just ducked under them, and I guess they collided with each other. By then I was gone."

Davis' other TD came on a 35-yard run after the Raiders were given a first down as Buffalo was called offside on George Blanda's 43-yard field goal try that was short.

Earlier Blanda connected for an 18-yard three-pointer.

For Buffalo, loser of all its six preseason games, it was a night of frustration. It could not mount an offensive until the final 2 1/2 minutes.

Rookie quarterback Joe Ferguson, playing the second half, tossed a 21-yard pass to seldom-used wide receiver Ray Jarvis a 26-yarder to rookie Paul Seymour, and then aerials of 17 and 16 yards to Jarvis. The last toss was good for a touchdown.

Allen Selects
Kilmer To Open

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Bill Kilmer will be the man who'll try to carry the Washington Redskins to another Super Bowl berth.

That was Washington Coach George Allen's decision last night after the Redskins completed an impressive 5-1 National Football League pre-season campaign with a 17-3 romp over the Chicago Bears.

Kilmer, who took over last season when veteran Sonny Jurgensen was hurt and carried the Redskins to the National Conference title, will be at quarterback next Sunday when the Redskins open the regular season against San Diego.

Despite some impressive performances by Jurgensen, who has battled back from a separated shoulder and a torn Achilles tendon in the past two years, he has been unable to unseat Kilmer, who makes up in inspirational leadership what he lacks in firepower.

Kilmer threw a typical Kilmer pass, an off-balance and wobbly 25-yarder to Roy Jefferson, for the first Washington touchdown and Bob Brunet scooped up a punt blocked by rookie Mike Hancock on the 15 and carried it in for the second TD. Mike Bragg had a 17-yard field goal for the Skins while Mirro Roder's 45-yarder accounted for the Bears' scoring.

In the only other game yesterday, the Baltimore Colts, with rookie Bert Jones leading a 68-yard march and Lydell Mitchell plunging over from the three with just 41 seconds left, downed the Denver Broncos 17-10.

In Saturday games, the New York Giants beat Cleveland 21-10. Minnesota stopped San Diego 24-16. Pittsburgh shut out Atlanta 19-0. The New York Jets edged Philadelphia 16-13. Cincinnati held off Green Bay 13-10. Oakland topped Buffalo 17-7.

COAST FOOTBALL

San Jose, Pacific
Off On Right Foot

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

San Jose State and Pacific, expected to battle for the Pacific Coast Athletic Association title this fall, got off on the right foot but what happened to UCLA, one of the Pacific 8 Conference kingpins?

San Jose, under new Coach Darryl Rogers, showed a new offense—primarily a ground attack—and made it pay off in a 14-12 victory over Santa Clara, while Pacific, rolling as it pleased after a stumbling start, whipped Sacramento State 22-0.

Meanwhile, in Lincoln, Neb., UCLA was soundly beaten by No. 2 ranked Nebraska 40-13 before a national television audience.

UCLA was the only Pacific 8 school in action last weekend but this week everyone goes to the post except the Bruins, who come home to lick their wounds, study films and wonder if they have as good a team as they originally thought.

Most pre-season forecasters listed UCLA as the only team with a chance to topple defending Pac 8 and national champion Southern California this fall.

In the Pac 8 Saturday, it will be Penn State at Stanford, Arkansas at USC, California at Alabama, Arizona State at Oregon, Oregon State at Auburn, Hawaii at Washington and Washington State at Kansas.

With everyone playing a powerhouse except Washington, observers can get a better line on the relative strength of the Pac 8 after next weekend's play.

Back to the PCAA, though, where most of the West Coast action took place last weekend. While San Jose State and Pacific were winning, two other PCAA schools lost. Long Beach State was beaten by Grambling and New Orleans defeated Houston 16-10.

The Giants completed their first perfect pre-season as Ron Johnson ran for 138 yards and two touchdowns in a victory over the Browns. The triumph left New York with a 6-0 pre-season mark.

Minnesota ended with a perfect 5-0 record as Fran Tarkenton passed for 238 yards and two TDs in a victory over San Diego. Tarkenton's performance overshadowed a 16-for-24, 231-yard, two-TD effort by San Diego's 40-year-old John Unitas.

Pittsburgh's Steel Curtain defense slammed shut on Atlanta as the Steelers prepared to open defense of their American Conference Central Division title with a shutout of the Falcons. Jack Ham's fumble recovery set up a 12-yard TD run by Frenchy Fuqua, who gained 139 yards, and Terry Bradshaw passed eight yards to Ron Shanklin for the other TD.

Bobby Howfield's 24-yard field goal at the final gun climaxed a 10-point rally in the final two minutes that gave the Jets their victory over Philadelphia. Rookie linebacker Rob Spicer recovered two fumbles to set up Al Woodall's 17-yard TD pass to Jerome Barkum and Howfield's third field goal.

Horst Muhlmann's 31-yard field goal with three seconds left lifted Cincinnati over Green Bay. The Bengals marched from their own 29 with 1:50 left to set up the winning kick.

Jeff White kicked three field goals and 5-foot-5 Howard Stevens ran 22 yards for the deciding score in the final period as the Saints recorded their first pre-season victory by beating Houston. New Orleans was 0-4 under former coach J.D. Roberts and split two games for new Coach John North.

year-old West Side Tennis Club stadium had rarely witnessed.

Fighting for his life in the fourth set, the 29-year-old Newcombe squared matters as the flow of his service and allround power dragged Kodes back to even terms. And in the final set, Newcombe achieved the vital service break in the fourth game, when a backhand down the line gave him break point and Kodes netted a forehand volley.

Newcombe served for the match in the ninth game, and, firing thunderbolts, he led 40-love, to hold three match points. He blasted one at the Czech and ran to the net to accept congratulations, but Kodes had gotten to the ball and instead of a handshake, Newcombe saw the service return whistle by.

The crowd roared with laughter and delight, and even Kodes smiled.

Newcombe went back to work, and a blinding ace wrapped it up.

On the final two days, they had also seen the superb Margaret Court emphatically prove her right to the No. 1 rating among the women as she beat Evonne Goolagong, 7-6, 5-7, 6-2 for the women's title.

In women's doubles title play yesterday, Virginia Wade of England and Margaret of Australia defeated Billie Jean King of Hilton Head, S.C. and Rosie Casals of Sausalito, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Mah won the tourney, which ended yesterday at 5 p.m., with a 29-pound, one-ounce striper, caught Aug. 25 at the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Mah won first prize of a 12-foot Trailerboat Special. The 10 winners were:

1. Larry Mah, San Rafael, 29-1; 2. Bob Armitage, Sacramento, 25-2; 3. Ed Gorman, Cloverdale, 24-4; 4. Frank Sae, San Rafael, 24-6; 5. Larry Mah, 23-5; 6. Paul Long, San Rafael, 23-2; 7. Lloyd Bruce, Mill Valley, 21-4; 8. Jack Rosecrance, San Rafael, 21-4; 9. Len Jann, San Francisco, 19-8; 10. Doug Kyono, San Francisco, 19-6.

Erickson Talks
ABA Contract

DENVER (UPI) — Denver rockets coach Alex Hannum said today he had started contract talks with Keith Erickson of the Los Angeles Lakers.

"As of right now," said Hannum, "everything is in a state of limbo. We haven't reached any agreement with Keith. He's under a standard National Basketball Association contract with Los Angeles for a one-year option."

Hannum said the NBA didn't have the option and that he viewed Erickson's Los Angeles contract as a bad one. He said he believed "it would be interesting to test it."

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Gullett 'Hidden Ace' For Reds

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Johnny Bench has been saying all season that the Cincinnati Reds had a "hidden ace" in Don Gullett and it may be that the 22-year-old lefthander will be the trump card in the National League's Western Division race.

Gullett, who in the words of Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell "throws wall to wall smoke," has been on the verge of stardom for the last three seasons. He had a 16-6 record in 1971 but slumped to 9-10 in 1972 and had only a 9-8 record on July 20 of this season.

Since then he has reeled off eight straight victories, raising his mark to 17-8 and playing a vital role in the Reds' drive to a three-game lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Gullett pitched a four-hitter in the second game Sunday as the Reds swept the Atlanta Braves, 14-6 and 7-0, and picked up a half game on the Dodgers who ended a nine-game losing streak with a 5-3 triumph over the San Diego Padres.

The Houston Astros defeated the San Francisco Giants, 5-4, the Chicago Cubs shaded the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4, the New York Mets beat the Montreal Expos, 3-0, and Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh, 8-7, in other NL games.

In the American League, it was Kansas City over California 9-5 and 6-3, Baltimore over Cleveland, 13-4 after a 6-4 loss, Milwaukee 10 New York 3, Detroit 5 Boston 4, Chicago 10 Minnesota 7 and Texas 5 Oakland 3.

The Reds, who have won 11 of their last 14 games, walloped the Braves in the first game on the strength of eight runs batted in by George Foster and Ken Griffey, who shared the No. 6 slot in the batting order. Griffey had a two-run homer, a run-scoring single and a double before retiring after five innings in favor of Foster, who droyed in five runs with a three-run homer and a two-run single. Joe Morgan added three RBIs with a two-run homer and a single. Dick Baney, who pitched 5 2-3 innings of middle inning relief, received credit for the victory.

Gullett, who struck out seven and walked three, was backed by an 11-hit attack which included a two-run homer and two-run single by Bench. Hank Aaron's career home run total remained at 709 — five short of Babe Ruth's lifetime record — when he had a double and two singles in the first game and sat out the nightcap.

The Dodgers braked their skid when Joe Ferguson's three-run sixth-inning homer gave them a 4-2 lead and Andy Messersmith went the distance on a nine-hitter for his 12th triumph. Ferguson's decisive blow off Rich Troedson came after singles by Manny Mota and Tom Paciorek and the Dodger catcher drove in a fourth run in the seventh inning.

Billy Williams rounded out a splendid three-game series when he hit the 375th homer of his career leading off the eighth inning and giving the Cubs their win over the Cardinals. Rick Monday hit his 23rd and 24th homers and reliever Bob Lock-er won his ninth game for the Cubs while Al Hrabosky was tagged for the Cardinals' defeat.

The Mets scored their runs on a two-base error by shortstop Tim Foli and a run-scoring double by Eliahu Miller as George Stone and Tug McGraw combined in a 13-hit shutout of the Expos. Stone received credit for his 10th win while McGraw earned his 18th save. Bayor Moore suffered his 15th loss against seven wins.

Willie Montanez' ninth-inning homer snapped a 7-7 tie, giving the Phillies' Mac Scarce his first victory of the year and dealing the Pirates' Eastern Division hopes another disheartening setback. Del Unser also homered for the Phillies while Stargell hit No. 39 for the Pirates and also had two doubles.

DIFFERENT PHILOSOPHIES

Rancho, St. Vincent Gridders Drill

By PAUL DWORIN

Perhaps the sound of young bodies crashing together with unbelievable force isn't your idea of an educational experience, but to Claude Brock, it's music to his ears.

"This is just a classroom out there," he said Saturday, after his Rancho Cotate High School of Rohnert Park football team finished its scrimmage with Justin High of Napa. "We're still learning and preparing ourselves to play football."

Brock is doing a little more teaching this year than he has in the past few, as just eight experienced players from last year's undefeated Sonoma County League championship team returned.

Brock's type of experimentation is not in evidence at St. Vincent High School in Petaluma, which started its three-hour per day practices last week under coach Bill Silva.

The 25-man squad will hold no surprises for Silva, who is starting his fourth year as Mustangs' head coach. Thirteen seniors and seven juniors return from last year's team (4-5), players whom Silva has coached since they were freshmen.

Brock, assisted by Ken Smith (working with receivers and defensive backs) and Dave Francis (offensive and defensive lines), has been conducting two and one-half hour per day practices, five days a week.

"I'm pleased with the way the kids have looked," said Brock, twice consecutively named SCL Coach of the Year. "I think we have a positive attitude. We like to have the kids enjoy playing football for us, and I think they do."

With the longest current winning streak in the Redwood Empire with 18 straight victories, complacency among the players could conceivably be a problem.

"High school football is not like a college or professional situation where you have the same people coming in every year," Brock commented. "In high school, there is a terrific turnover. For the last three or four years, the varsity has had all different kinds of teams."

Unlike many of his peers, Brock carries over his philosophy of instruction and experimentation into the pre-league season, although the Cougars' victory string would seem to belie that.

What Silva and his assistant

Whitworth
Upsets Own
Prediction

DALLAS (UPI) — Kathy Whitworth sat in air conditioned comfort yesterday fresh from firing a course-record 66 and looked at the scoreboard.

The board showed she had finished the Dallas Civitan Ladies Open Golf Tournament with a three-under-par 213, but out on the course Jane Blalock, Mary Mills and Beth Stone were all at four-under.

"I don't think I can win it," said Miss Whitworth, who had not won a tournament since the fourth tour event this year. "There are too many of them up there."

But Miss Stone lost two strokes over the last five holes and Miss Blalock lost two strokes over the last three holes and it was up to Miss Mills to struggle in with an equalling 213.

Miss Whitworth then left the air conditioned comfort and defeated Miss Mills on the second hole of sudden death when Miss Mills missed a twofoot putt.

"I have come from further off the pace than this and won on the last day," said Miss Whitworth, who made up six shots on Miss Mills. "But I haven't done it lately. I don't really know if I'm out of my slump. I still don't feel right with my swing."

"I actually didn't hit the ball as well today as I did the first two rounds but I putted pretty well—I didn't three putt a green—and I didn't have a bad hole."

Miss Whitworth won $4,950 for her third victory of the year and Miss Mills had to be satisfied with $3,750.

Anti-Blackout
Bill Passed By House Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House subcommittee approved legislation today to ban permanently television blackouts of home games of professional football teams when the events are sold out 72 hours in advance.

The Senate passed a bill last week to limit a similar ban to a one-year trial period.

The bill approved by the house communications subcommittee received one dissenting vote — cast by Rep. James M. Collins (R-Tex.).

SECRETARIAT GETS
124-POUND LIMIT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Secretariat, the Triple Crown winner, was assigned 124 pounds today for Saturday's running of the $250,000 Marlboro Cup at Belmont Park, three pounds over scale weight for a 3-year-old at 1 1/4 miles.

Riva Ridge, also owned by the Meadow Stable, was given 127 pounds by racing Secretary Kenny Noe.

Riva Ridge, the 1972 Kentucky Derby winner, thus was rated only one pound over the scale for older horses. Key To the Mint and Cougar 2D each were assigned 126 pounds while Tentam, winner of the Governor Stakes at Belmont Park Saturday, and Kennedy Road were assigned 121.

Onion, who beat Secretariat in the Whitney Stakes at Saratoga but finished seventh in the Governor, was given 116 pounds and Annihilate 'Em, winner of the Travers Stakes and the only other 3-year-old in the star-studded field, was also given 116.

Kerwan To Coach
Reno Hockey Team

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Jim Kerwan, a former coach at the University of Detroit, was named the new coach of the Reno Aces senior amateur hockey team.

Kerwan, 28, played for Port Huron, Mich., Junior College and the Port Huron Flags of the pro International Hockey League.

Player shrugged it off, however, saying, "I had the five shot lead and I didn't try to be clever. I just wanted to get close to the hole. I'm certain if I needed a good finish, I would have done better."

"If I really had to, I would have," said the 36-year-old South African, who made the Southern his 16th PGA triumph and 89th victory of his brilliant career.

Player shrugged it off, however, saying, "I had the five shot lead and I didn't try to be clever. I just wanted to get close to the hole. I'm certain if I needed a good finish, I would have done better."

Fog Cools Areas Ripped By Fires

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Cool fog and favorable winds moved in from the Pacific Ocean yesterday to aid firefighters battling a 12,500-acre forest fire that threatened a California resort community.

The tiny resort of Shelter Cove in Humboldt County was evacuated Saturday night when flames destroyed two houses and at least two other buildings. The blaze was the worst of six forest fires burning out of control through nearly 22,000 acres of forest in Northern California.

(The Kentfield Fire Department, acting in co-operation with the Office of Emergency Services, sent one fire truck and two men to battle a blaze north of Fort Bragg.)

A spokesman for the State Division of Forestry said the fog and smoke from the fire made it difficult for planes flying over Shelter Cove to see if any more buildings had been destroyed.

But he said the fog and favorable winds should help the more than 500 men who were battling the flames with 15 fire trucks, seven air tankers and 26 bulldozers.

The fire grew from 1,000 acres Saturday night to more than 12,000 yesterday and raced from Shelter Cove six miles south to the Whale Gulch area, where firefighters hoped to contain the flames.

Seven converted World War II bombers, used to drop chemical fire retardants, were diverted from the fire to a 600-acre blaze which broke out Saturday night 18 miles to the south. More than 200 men fought the fire in the Petrolia area, but there was no estimate of when it would be contained.

The forestry spokesman said all of the fires were man-caused, but that arson was not suspected.

More than 330 men struggled with a roaring brush fire that broke out Saturday night in scenic Mendocino County, near Covelo, and blackened at least 3,000 acres.

A spokesman said the main fire had burned to the banks of the Eel River, while a spot fire three miles long and one mile wide was heading Sunday night toward the community of Dos Rios.

A 4,500-acre blaze in a sparsely settled area on the Solano-Napa county line was "looking very good" after a wind shift and firemen hoped for containment this morning.

Another fire raged out of control on top of Table Mountain near Oroville in Yuba County, blackening more than 800 acres of brush and burning to within a few hundred yards of a ranch house.

Inouye Reveals Dinner Donors

HONOLULU (UPI) — Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, Saturday revealed the name of every contributor to a recent fund-raising dinner and the amount each person gave. It was the first time such a move had been made in Hawaii politics.

"If I'm going to talk about campaign finances," said Inouye, a member of the Senate Watergate committee, "I'd better start practicing what I preach."

Inouye listed 745 names in his report on last month's dinner. The "Dinner with Dan" committee announced that after expenses of $41,178.16 were deducted, a profit of $113,901.84 was made. The two largest donors gave $5,000 each.

Scientist Says Brain-Damaging Disease Reversed In Children

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — An Italian scientist said yesterday she had succeeded in reversing some of the effects of a braincrippling hereditary disease by means of a hormone injection.

Dr. Francesca Brambilla of Milan said her research concerned the disease PKU, or phenylketonuria, which strikes three babies in every 100,000 and results in severe mental retardation.

If the disease is diagnosed early (in the U.S. every child is tested at birth), it can be controlled by a bland diet, although some brain deterioration can still occur.

Dr. Brambilla said she worked with three children, aged 9, 11, and 12, whose affliction with PKU had gone undiagnosed at birth. She said they "had IQs too low to measure."

However, after three months of injections with an anabolic steroid drug, she said the children were "transformed."

Their IQs were still below normal, but they had taken an interest in their surroundings, the scientist said. Of more importance, she said, was that the level of an amino acid in their bodies had fallen to an acceptable limit.

The buildup of an amino acid called phenylalanine is the result of the PKU sufferer's inability to metabolize proteins and is what causes the brain damage.

Dr. Brambilla said she also worked with several younger children. One boy, now 9 years old, started with an IQ below 50. After a year on the drug, it jumped to 92 "and he's back in school."

Preachers Said Black Vote Key

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Charles Evers, the black mayor of Fayette, Miss., advised black political candidates in Kentucky to gain the political support of the preachers.

"If they say vote for old Evers, the congregation will vote," he said at a workshop for black political candidates at the University of Louisville Saturday. "If they say don't vote, Evers is sunk."

There are 63 blacks running for public office in Kentucky this November, 49 of them for city legislative positions, three running for mayor in various cities, and one candidate is seeking a police judgeship.
